Hopes Dwindle For High School Swimming Pool

Hopes for the long-awaited swimming pool and music building at Carmel High School dwindled when the bids were opened and studied at Monday night's meeting of the school board. In each case, the bids submitted were so much higher than had been expected, that no action was taken. Instead, another meeting within the 30-day deadline established by law, may be held and the matter will be taken up again at that time.

The facts are these:

1. The board had expected bids on the pool ranging anywhere from $60,000 to $80,000, and the lowest bid submitted was $118,000 from the United Swimming Pool Company of San Gabriel for both the construction and the heating system.

2. Instead of a bid in the neighborhood of $60,000 for the music building, lowest figure submitted was in the neighborhood of $93,000, made by Stolte, Inc. of Monterey Peninsula.

3. Of the $450,000 school bonds voted a year ago, approximately $257,000 remains in the treasury, and $150,000 of this amount has been earmarked for the Dolores street grade school. The $107,000 is the total amount remaining for the new projects. Proposed recreation center and library have been put aside for the present.

Just what will be done about the situation will be discussed soon, and in the meantime a special meeting is being held today to discuss the Dolores street school.

Fire Protection Is Meeting Topic

Fire protection for unincorporated areas near Carmel was explained at a meeting Wednesday of Carmel Unincorporated by Harry McAuley, of the Carmel Hill state fire suppression crew. The meeting, held at All Saints' Church, was attended by an enthusiastic delegation from the organization, and it was conducted by General E. G. Chapman, president.

Further discussion of fire protection, zoning, sewage and sanitation will be held at a meeting to be called in the near future.

Red Cross Drive Workers Appointed

Mathew Jenkins, chairman of the Red Cross Fund Campaign for Carmel, Pebble Beach, and Carmel Highlands, announced today that the campaign will be conducted differently than in past years. No letters soliciting funds will be sent to Carmel residents. Their contributions will be solicited by block workers. Letters will be sent to residents of Pebble Beach, Big Sur and Carmel Highlands because of the difficulty of soliciting by block workers. The campaign opens March 1.

Area captains who will appoint the block workers are:

Upper Carmel Valley: Mrs. Frank W. Andrews; Lower Carmel Valley: Mrs. Trueman Scarlett; Carmel: B. F. Dixon; Carmel Business District: Frank Smiley; Pebble Beach: Paul Whitman; Big Sur: captain still to be appointed.

WASHINGTON 1948

FREEDOM TRAIN — BY DORIS ORMSBY

Six Lucky Naval Men Have No Housing Problem

Six fortunate young naval officers and their families, newly arrived in Carmel, have no housing worries at all, thanks to the generosity of Rear Admiral W. C. Kilpatrick, USN (Ret).

Admiral Kilpatrick has turned over the use of seventeen acres of his beautiful Highlands estate, including the main house and four guest cottages, to the housing authorities at the Del Monte naval school. The six families, two of which share the main house, moved in this week. One of the families was installed before the Kilpatricks departed, after Mrs. Kilpatrick learned that they had been forced to spend the night in their car.

The Kilpatricks left Monday for their home in Hillsborough.

Cast Selected For Voice Of The Turtle

The cast of The Voice of The Turtle is now in rehearsal at the Golden Bough Playhouse, and will start production on Monday, March 8.

The part of Sally Middleton, naive New York actress, will be played by Miss Ursula Halloran, who has stopped in Carmel during a tour of non-professional theaters.

The role of sophisticated Olive Lashbrooke will be taken by Miss Helen Lane, of Los Angeles, who is now visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mary K. Solari of Carmel.

Lieutenant William Buckley will take the role of Bill Page in The Voice of The Turtle. The lieutenant is now in the Army Langu-

Wainwright's One-Man Show Opens Today

Samuel Hayman Wainwright, Jr., will exhibit 15 of his oil paintings in the Victoria Room of the Pine Inn for one week beginning today, and this will be Carmel's first chance to evaluate his work. He has recently signed a contract with a Swedish agent to have translated into several European languages his book. Beauty in Japan, illustrated by himself and published by Putnam in 1935. Although it was considered successful at the time, its progress toward an increasing public was halted by the change in public attitude during the war, but it is again finding appreciation because, after all, beauty has an international appeal. The book is a critical study of the history, religions, customs and general ideas by which the people of Japan have lived for centuries in spite of the aggressive cliques who have been in the news in the last few years. Mr. Wainwright, having been born in Japan, learned to respect its tradition of aesthetic values long before he ever heard of the danger in that country's military aspirations.

Mr. Wainwright's parents were in Toyko at the time of his birth for a very good reason: his father, the original Samuel Hayman Wainwright, M. D. and D. D., was honorary adviser to the Christian Literary Society of Japan, a publishing company occupying a 13-story building, while he conducted his pastorate and wrote several books concerning the experiences of a Christian minister in the Orient.

Mr. Wainwright has had a varied career, for his activities include architecture and ten years devoted to water color, and some years as

Four Prospective Council Candidates Throw Hats Into Ring For April 13

With three seats to be filled on the Carmel City Council in the forthcoming election, indications of a lively campaign became apparent this week with the announcement that four prospective candidates will enter the race.

They are: Leslie Bosshardt, Captain H. M. Gleason, Andrew W. Martin and Malcom B. Woods. Incumbents Charles Childers and Allen Knight told the Pine Cone "they have not yet decided but should be able to say yes or no within a few days."

The seat on the council definitely open is that of Keith Evans, who is building a home in the Mission Tract, outside city limits, which automatically makes it illegal for him to serve.

City Clerk Peter Mawdsley has announced his intention to rerun for that position this year, as has also Treasurer Harry Hilbert. It is necessary for each prospective candidate to obtain names of ten eligible voters on his nomination paper before it becomes official.

Leslie Bosshardt is a retired seafaring man, who recently was in charge of a fleet of purse seiners sent from the West Coast to China for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. He is the new owner of El Fumidor, news agency and tobacco store, on Dolores street.

Captain H. M. Gleason, Retired, U. S. Naval Reserve, is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy and served 25 years with the regular Navy. He is a veteran of three wars, the Spanish American, World War I and World War II. During the last war he was in charge of Naval Conversion Work, San Francisco Bay area, and was released from this work to become manager of Naval Construction at the West Yard of the Moore Drydock Company, Oakland. He has resided in Carmel for the past 15 years and has owned his home on Carmelo for the past eight years.

Andrew Martin, known to many in this section as "Andy", was head of the California Highway Patrol for this locality for many years. Ill health forced him to retire from this position last year. He was raised and went to school both in Corral de Tierra and Carmel Valley, where his family had been prominent in ranching for many years. He told the Pine Cone that although he has not yet filed the necessary forms, he is "carefully considering" the matter, and his decision to do this, in part, was the effect of seeing what happened to those two areas, before proper guidance was put into effect. "The next four years will be critical ones for everyone, and, more than ever, Carmel must be directed toward careful development in order to retain its individuality." He remembers Carmel when it was merely a pathway through the pines to the beach. He owns a home at Fifth Carpenter.

Malcom B. Woods has been a resident of Carmel for nine years and is owner of the Woods building at Dlores and Seventh. For eight years he operated the Dolores Pharmacy and last year sold the business to N. M. Leoni. He said this week that he believes in "keeping Carmel in line along its natural trend" and says that every effort must be made to prevent it from being like any other seaside resort town along the coast.

Camille Olaeta Will Be Soloist At Concert Here

While the orchestra of nearly seventy pieces undergoes final drilling for the concert of the Monterey County Symphony Association to be held at Sunset Auditorium, Carmel on Tuesday evening, February 24, 8:15 p.m., tickets went on sale this week at all music stores on the Peninsula.

Mrs. Camille Olaeta of Monterey is to be the featured soloist in a portion of the Grieg A Minor Concerto for piano. Mrs. Olaeta amazes and delights those who work with her in the orchestra by her ability in rehearsal to pick up her piano part from memory at any given note or measure, without benefit of music, while the conductor puts finishing touches on the instrumental accompaniment.

During the first half of the program Clifford Anderson will conduct the orchestra, while during the second half it will be under the baton of the co-conductor, Lorell McCann.

Mrs. Olaeta is a graduate of the College of the Pacific at Stockton. While at college she studied music under John Gilchrist Elliott, dean of the conservatory of music, and at that time received two scholarships, one from Eureka, and the other the Whittaker award in music. She is married to Joey Olaeta who is now teaching at the Walter Colton School in Monterey.

Chop House Liquor Hearing Held

W. A. MacDonald, State Board of Equalization referee, held a public hearing at City Hall Tuesday afternoon on the subject of the allegedly erroneous issuance of on sale liquor license to Colliard's Chop House June 11, 1947, before receipt of protest from the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea presented by City Attorney W. L. Hudson. Mr. MacDonald informed those assembled that no decision would be made at this hearing but that the testimony would affect his recommendation to the Board.

Ferdinand H. Colliard represented himself at the hearing, while Mr. Hudson spoke on behalf of the City Council. R. H. Burke appeared for the administrator and W. H. Batchelder, state liquor officer in charge of the Monterey Peninsula District, testified regarding the floor plan of the Chop House and the nature of the district.

Mr. Hudson and his witnesses made it clear that whole object of the City Council's protest is to preserve as far as possible the present character of Carmel, without any objection whatever to the restaurant under discussion.

PADRES WIN TWO FROM BOULDER CREEK; PLAY HOLY CROSS TONIGHT

Featured by Lee Laugenour's 31 point spree in the lightweight game, the Carmel High School basketball teams scored a double victory over the small Boulder Creek fives last Friday night at Boulder Creek. The Padre Babes snowed under the BC lights by a 60-25 count and the Red and Grey varsity won by 31-23. In the lightweight fracas, Lee Laugenour set a new CCAL lightweight scoring record when he scorched the net for 31 markers. Lee has been high scorer in most of the recent lightweight games and has been the sparkplug of the team. With this victory, the Carmel lightweights clinch third place in the league standings. The Padre varsity had a little difficulty getting untracked at Boulder Creek and found themselves on the short end of a 11-2 count at the end of the first quarter. However, the locals woke up in the second quarter and held the Creek lads scoreless while they were picking up 9 points to get a halftime deadlock. Paced by McCreery and Timmins the Padres came fast in the second half and were never seriously threatened. With 6 wins and 2 losses, the Carmel varsity finished in second place in the heavyweight division.

Tonight the Padres write finis to another regular season of basketball when they play host to the Holy Cross High School from Santa Cruz. Holy Cross has one of the best lightweight teams in this section and they have an enviable record of 14 wins and 1 loss. The Holy Cross varsity is about on a par with the Padres and should put up an interesting tussle. Next week the Carmel varsity will prep for the 2nd Carmel Invitational Tournament which will be held February 27th and 28th.

SECOND CARMEL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT FEB. 27th AND 28th

Carmel High School will again play host to the smaller schools in the area when the 2nd Invitational Basketball Tournament is held on February 27th and 28th. Participating in the 1948 tournament will be Patterson and Gustine from the San Joaquin League, Monterey from the CCAL A division, Gilroy from the Santa Clara Valley League, King City, Gonzales, Pacific Grove, and Carmel from the CCAL B division. Pacific Grove, 1947 winner, will again be favored to cop the top prize. The Breakers won the B division flag and have practically the same team which breezed through the tournament last year. However, Monterey is entering their varsity this year and are capable of upsetting the high-flying Breakers. From the valley comes two fine teams representing Patterson and Gustine high schools. These two schools are high up in the San Joaquin race and are a definite threat for the big trophy and gold basketballs.

Activities will commence at 3:30 on Friday afternoon when Gonzales and Monterey square off in the opening game. At 5 o'clock, Patterson and Gilroy will match shots. 7:30 finds Carmel and Gustine battling to get into the finals. The feature game at 9 o'clock finds King City and Pacific Grove playing their rubber match of the year. King City defeated Pacific Grove in the initial meeting this year and Pacific Grove edged the Mustangs in the rematch. This game should be a corker with plenty of red hot competition.

Tickets for single games or for the entire tournament may be purchased at the high school gymnasium.

BOYS' CLUB BIG WINNER IN BENEFIT GAMES

Although the Village League All-Stars weren't too successful against the classy All-American Sports from Santa Barbara on the basketball court, the game achieved its major purpose and provided enough funds to adequately equip three Boys' Club basketball teams. The Sports packed too much height and team play for the willing Village League performers and won about as they pleased. When the final whistle blew, the scoreboard read, Sports 51, All-Stars 28. The score could just as easily have been 151 to 28. Ron Johnson, a fine college basketball player, was the big gun in the Sports offense. Johnson poured through 20 points and handled the ball flawlessly. Art Keithley, a finished basketball player and accomplished clown, provided trick passing and shooting and managed to keep the crowd in a good humour by his unorthodox antics. Ky Miyamoto, clever All-Star forward, held his own with the All-Americans and pierced their defense for 8 tallies. Other cagers playing for the All-Stars were Bob Bell, Tom Perez, Bert Colletto, Chuck Dawson, Nicky Albert, Del Wermuth, and Hank Ricketts.

The Carmel Boys Club renewed their feud with the Monterey Club and emerged on the long end of a 34-29 count. This preliminary game was a fast well-played tussle which was alive with competition. The game was close all the way and the lead changed hands several times during the contest.

ABALONE LEAGUE GETS UNDERWAY SUNDAY AT 1:30

At exactly 1:30 Sunday afternoon, Umpire-in-Chief, Andy Del Monte will sing out "PLAY BALL" and another season of the famed Carmel Abalone League will be launched. The Abalone League is unique in that the teams are composed of men, women, and grammar school kids and has a set of rules which make fun the big objective in the Sunday games. The high school turf is an ideal place for this type of game and there is plenty of chance for everyone to play. There is still ample room on all the teams and interested players can get on one of the teams by signing up with Gene Ricketts at Ricketts & Freeman Sporting Goods Store, Cliff Cook at the Pine Cone, or Mike Balazs at the Quality Market.

Sunday at 1:15 all participants will meet at the high school field and players will be assigned to teams. At 1:30 the Pilots will square off with last years' champions, the Shamrocks, The 2:30 game will bring together the Tigers and the Giants.

Some of the Abalone League rules which make it unique from any other known league are: There must be 2 women and 1 grammar school boy on each team. Pitchers may balk and base-runners can take a leadoff. Fielders cannot come inside a designated point when girls and boys are batting. Stealing home is not permitted. Pitchers must throw with a bowling motion and the pitch is limited. A hit is scored each time a batter reaches first base. (Belvail note) The umpire's word is law and there are no arguments with the umpire. (Much).

THE BASKETBALL GAME

At the beginning of basketball season Mr. Orville Rogers started three basketball teams. The teams were named Hot Rods, Huskies, and Bears. Mr. Rogers said, "the team that wins will get to go to Gilroy to see Gilroy and Carmel play." The Hot Rods and Huskies tied for first place. The last game was close. The score was 11 to 10. The Hot Rods won.

CYPRESS POINT GOLF

A three under par 69 was scored at Cypress Point this week by Assistant Pro Woody Lamb. He had 12 pars, 2 bogies, 3 birdies and an eagle. The course record 66, might easily have been tied or bettered by Lamb if some of the short putts he missed had gone into the cup. He was stroking his putts well, but the balls just wouldn't drop. Lamb was playing with Newt Bassler, Ray Parga and Jim Tyree.

HOLE-IN-ONE

The second hole-in-one ever made on the "toughest three par hole in the world," the 16th at Cypress Point, was scored last Sunday by Bing Crosby. Crosby used a driver for the 205 yard carry over the ocean. The sun was directly in the players' eyes, so none were able to see the ball enter the hole, discovering it there when they reached the green. Playing with Bing were Dan Searle, Henry Puget, John B. Morse and Harrison Godwin.

DR. MORGAN SPEAKER

Dr. O. S. Morgan, retired professor of Columbia University, who has recently returned from China after spending fifteen months as an official of the UNRRA, will address Mrs. Glenn Clairmente's current literature group at 7:30 Tuesday evening, February 24, in Room 11 of Sunset School. Visitors are always welcome to attend these meetings which are held under the auspices of the Carmel Adult School.

Senator Fred Weybret Talks Before L.W.V.

If California changes the representation in the State Senate to a population basis, as in the Assembly, Los Angeles would practically control the state, Senator Fred Weybret of Salinas told a group of members of the League of Women Voters Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry B. Gantt. The informal meeting included members of study groups One and Two, who in completing their examination of legislative processes, invited the state senator of this district to discuss the working of the upper house of the Legislature.

The Time Has Come . .

By KIPPY STUART

When we have about made up our minds that science can go no further, along comes the information that science has discovered an iridescent moss that shines in the dark. I can't help being amused to learn that there is a group of solemn scientists who call themselves The Sullivan Moss Society and have members who go snooping all over the world for new varieties of moss. So far, no name has been given this strange vegetation; it is simply called, Shining Moss. In the Science News Letter of January 24, there is a photograph of this luminous moss and the photograph was taken with no light save that emanating from the plant. Why should not this discovery benefit Carmel? If the City Fathers issued a mandate for all residents to plant Shining Moss on invisible curbs and along their property line, wouldn't the problem of stumbling along dark streets be solved?

Science News Letter of January 10 has another startling article, entitled, Milk-Fed Vegetables. Farmers are now feeding buttermilk and skimmilk to onions, tomatoes and vegetables of that ilk. The result is larger and better vegetables.

The ancient Romans used the onion to cure 88 diseases. Recent experiments with onion, garlic, horseradish and pepper prove that these vegetables kill bacteria and fungus. On the strength of this information I intend to surround my delphinium with onion and garlic plants.

This flight into science won't get us anywhere with the opportune task. Pruning must be completed in February; this is the last call for perennials. In March the sap begins to flow and a tree or bush can be badly damaged if pruned after new growth has started. Cut away all scraggly, dead wood, especially lateral branches and be sure, while pruning, to shape your plant. Prune roses drastically. All canes that are over one year old should be removed and most of the lateral branches cut back. Examine your rose bushes carefully. Note where the graft-bud emerges from the ground. If suckers branch out below the bud, cut them off. Most roses are grafts. Those that you have seen dwindling away to small flowers are reverting to the original stock because they have not been pruned properly. Flowering fruit trees may be pruned while in flower, which is a break for the gardener as these flowers make excellent arrangements.

Now is a good time to re-pot pelargoniums, fuchsias, and succulents. All potted plants need fresh earth at least once a year and the period just before Spring is the best time. Divide delphinium into two or three plants, also divide Grand Marconi daisy plants. Ester Reed and Chiffon daisies can be divided into dozens of small sets that will bloom this summer. A superb arrangement of daisies is to plant Grand Marconi as a back ground, Ester Reed next and Chiffon daisies at the base. A shower of white and yellow for the whole summer and fall.

Rock Hounds Sponsor Mineral Exhibit

Men and women, boys and girls of the Monterey Bay area will have an opportunity to see some of the finest specimens of rocks and minerals of collectors on Saturday and Sunday, February 28 and 29 at the attractive Salinas Community YMCA Building. At the meeting of the Monterey Bay Mineral Society on Monday evening of this week at the YMCA Building A. W. Flippin, president of this club which is sponsoring the First Annual Mineral Show, received enthusiastic reports from each of the many chairmen who are responsible for the various phases of this show. Outstanding material not only of natural specimens of material, but also cut and polished gems, lapidary work and fluorescents. The Monterey Bay Mineral Society has won the distinction of being one of the most active groups of "rock hounds" on the coast.

Seventy-five men and women from Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel, Hollister, and the Salinas Valley as far south as San Ardo, were present at the meeting. Three beautiful technicolor pictures were shown of the Wyoming Tetons, the asphalt pits in Southern California, and Saudi Arabia. After the meeting refreshments were served.

Carmel Music Society Presents Jacques Thibaud In Delightful Concert At Sunset Auditorium

BY EBEN WHITTLESEY

The Carmel Music Society's presentation of Jacques Thibaud on Tuesday evening brought to the audience a revival of memories of both a great artist who has been widely known and loved for many years, and of an artistic tradition somewhat foreign to these post-war years. Mr. Thibaud has lately returned to the American concert stage after an absence of about thirteen years, during which he has endured the hardships suffered by France in the occupation and devastation of war.

The program provided a full measure of the flowing tone, the extreme refinement and somewhat ethereal delicacy of the older French school. The music was mellow and caressing with the quiet serenity of a Corot landscape and bespoke an artistic viewpoint which has not taken on the asperity of hard times .

The concert opened with the A Major Sonata by Franck whose lovely melodic line and warm coloring is familiar to most of us. The first movement was played more slowly than American audiences are accustomed to hear it, but we are told that this interpretation is faithful to the conception of the composer. Mr. Thibaud did not entirely gain poise and balance until the last of the four movements, the earlier portions being marred by some uncertainty. The last and most brilliant movement, however was performed with conviction and a rich tone.

Those who are accustomed to a more trenchant style were at first conscious of a lack of vigor and emphasis, but as the program progressed the charm and graciousnes of the artist's conception took hold of his audience..

The Mozart concerto in A Major concluded the first part of the program. Mozart, whose works are often a little hard and brittle when too much attention is given to pure technique, was warm with a gracious charm under Mr. Thibaud's hand. The eloquent melody dominated the eighteenth century embellishments which sometimes seem artificial to modern ears. It seemed as though the artist had grasped the winning personality behind the composition to a high degree. There was still some technical roughness, and the last movement lacked some of the sharpness and clarity one expects.

Havanaise by Saint-Saens introduced a touch of the Spanish idiom with perhaps not quite enough fire in its execution. The Gollywog's Cake Walk by Debussy provided a touch of humor, though it is somewhat more effective as a piano solo.

The familiar Brahms Waltz and "Danse" by de Falla concluded the scheduled program. The encores included another de Falla selection and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy. The artist is obviously very much in sympathy with the latter composer, and we could have enjoyed more examples of his work. The evening was a rewarding experience notable for sensitive interpretation and a gracious rather than a sparkling execution. On the whole, it is probably a type of playing which makes for a better appreciation of the composers whose works are played and less preoccupation with the artist himself.

Marinus Flipse gave a very good account of himself as accompanist, and probably received more than his share of attention from the audience, which was hearing the new Music Society Steinway for the first time in a regularly scheduled concert. It is a beautiful instrument worthy of any artist who may come to Carmel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
"Mind" is the spbject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, February 22, with the Golden Text from I Corinthians: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (2:16).
Included in the sermon are the following citations:
Matthew: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (10:8).
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If God were understood instead of being merely believed, this understanding would establish health . . . Immortal Mind, governing all, must be acknowledged as supreme in the physical realm, so-called, as well as in the spiritual" (pp. 203, 427).

Good Neighbors And The Dead Cat

By Sara Farrar

You can't say "Scat" to a dead cat. It's a complicated business to dispose of the remains of an animal that has laid down its life by the fence that separates your property from the next door neighbors.

The police informed me that their department had no truck with dead cats and to call the garbage man. I was going away, and had dispensed with that service, temporarily, so I went next door and asked my good neighbors if they would have the collector pick it up. We all went over and looked at the remains, and the neighbors agreed that it would be a simple matter to attend to the affair.

When I returned home I skipped over to pay for the funeral expenses.

"I see the cat is gone," I said in cheerful greeting, "and have dropped in to thank you and pay for it."

"Nothing could ever pay for what we have gone through with that cat," she said, not in an unfriendly way but with a good deal of warmth. "We had a perfectly terrible time. I wrote a note to Mr. Roscelli asking him to pick it up but he evidently doesn't make special trips for cats. It began to get unpleasant so I went to the drug store and bought some quick lime. We went over and covered it with dirt and lime. I called the police and inquired if anyone but Roscelli would take it, and they suggested another concern. I telephoned them but nothing happened.

"We began to worry about whether the garbage man could find the cat so I put a note on the can saying we would put up a white flag to mark the spot. I did that, and another member of the family thought he would look on our side of the fence, so she brought the rag over and stuck it up on our side. When I found the flag flying on our side, I took and put it back on the other side, and we wrote out full directions and put it on the garbage can.

"Then we had the awful thought that perhaps the garbage man couldn't read it in the dark. We decided to be ready for him. Miss X got up at 5:30 a.m. and I felt that I ought not lie in bed at such a critical time so I got up, too. It was an hour before we heard the truck and cans rattling all over the neighborhood. We flew out and escorted our deliverer to the shallow grave, supplied a shovel, and he took off the cat in a box. The garbage cans played taps."

If anybody has missed a large black cat with horizontal grey stripes, now they know what became of it. It apparently died peacefully and no loving ones could have given its remains more attention.

You've Stopped... you've Looked... now Listen

IT'S stopped you more than once as its graceful length moves smoothly down the street.

And again and again, you've turned to look at this fashion plate that so plainly proclaims its power and mobility in every line and action.

Now listen to the engineering story that makes this the car of the year, most wanted not only for stunning good looks but for all-round goodness.

You ride here behind Fireball power that is lively and eager and big—and now cradled to the fluid smoothness of still waters running deep.

You relax in big cushioned interiors that are rich and fine in finish—and so blissfully quiet that it seems a whisper can be heard throughout the car.

Your tires are soft pillowy cushions, your four springs gentle coils, your rims the sure-footed Safety-Ride kind that only Buick provides.

Your ride is the first one truly shielded against road shudder and shiver by scientific damping of vibration build-up within the car.

And if you choose a ROAD-MASTER, you can treat yourself to Dynaflow Drive*—a liquid-smooth drive that does away with all gear-shifting—and driving becomes a near-miracle of ease.

You profit, in Buick, from 30-odd new advances—choose from ten sparkling models—select from three series in three wheelbases and four power ratings.

You get style—you get size—you get comfort, quiet and ease—and ever the solid goodness that the name Buick stands for.

So why are you waiting, when waiting only puts off the brightest moment of a motoring lifetime? See your dealer and place your order now.

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

No gears ever shift in DYNAFLOW DRIVE*

In Buick's new Dynaflow Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear-changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models.

Carmel Music Society's New Concert Grand Piano Given Christening Sunday Night

BY STEPHANIE SHEHATOVICH

The large and unusually appreciative audience that filled Sunset Auditorium last Sunday evening was immediately conscious that the occasion was one that could never be repeated.

It was the christening, so to speak, of the wonderful new concert grand piano which has recently been purchased by the Carmel Music Society. This piano will enable the Music Society not only to sustain the exalted tradition it has established but to carry it to an even higher fulfillment.

At the beginning of the evening Noel Sullivan, in introducing the piano, told us it had long been the dream of the Society to possess its own instrument and how through the subscriptions of many interested people, some of them anonymous, the large sum necessary to make possible the purchase had been realized. In conclusion Mr. Sullivan indicated that only in an American community such as this, where freedom and free enterprise prevail, could the procedure have been carried out.

Bernhard Abramowitsch was the soloist of the evening and proved himself to be, from the very start, the inevitably right choice as pianist for such an occasion. Under his fingers the noble instrument sang, entreated, stormed, whispered, wept and exulted at the player's will, but always, from maxium fortissimo to the faintest pianissimo, the piano maintained its tonal integrity. It was invariably wine-like as to sonority and velvet-textured. From the top note of the treble to the lowest note of the bass the scale sounded full and unbroken, a rare achievement in piano construction nowadays, and the firm of Steinway is to be congratulated. Mr. Abramowitsch said after the recital that he had never played a more beautiful piano.

The program was assembled with flawless and impeccable taste. Not only did it mark Mr. Abramowitsch's own predilections, but obviously it was chosen to show off the piano's potentialities as well, and in every respect it was eminently successful.

Bernhard Abramowitsch is a great musician and a master of his instrument. He has an infallible sense of style and structure. He communicates the essence of the composer's inner intention with sober clarity, with honesty and always with completely captivating tonal charm.

The first half of the program featured the fantasy form, and it was not unintentional that the artist had arranged it in chronological reverse. Mr. Abramowitsch evidently prefers to program the works of composers according to their musically psychic affinities or in group relationships. Thus Mozart in a sense is the psychic father of Schubert, and in turn C. Ph. E. Bach bears a similar relationship to Mozart. Each, in his way, was a trail blazer for his era.

The Wanderer Fantasie, which opened the program, is one of the great musical monuments of all time. In the strict sense it is not "literary," although it derives its name from a melody utilized by Schubert in his immortal song, "Der Wanderer." The basic theme that inaugurates this heroic composition—the haunting, mystical quality of the slow movement—the presto (like a dance on Parnassus in warm sunlight, and the majesty of the opening fugato in the finale—all this was completely realized by Mr. Abramowitsch. It was a thrilling performance, and its magnitude remained uncontested throughout an evening of brilliant achievement.

The great brooding Fantasy of Mozart came next. It was doubtless written for the then newly-invented piano-forte and was revealed to us Sunday evening replete with profound meanings and with its technical hazards all masterfully disposed of.

The Sonatas of C. Ph. E. Bach are all too rarely played, and we are grateful to Mr. Abramowitsch for having acquainted us with this jewel of a sonata in B minor. It represents the breaking away from the full sway of the already culminated perfection of the polyphonic period as represented by Johann Sebastian Bach. It presages the sonata form, then in its most tentative beginnings, which later was to be fully realized in the writings of Beethoven.

The group of Chopin works, which comprised the second half of the program, are too well known to require detailed comment here. They were all played with utter sensitivity, in the Chopin idiom, with ravishing tone and unerring awareness.

At the insistence of an attentive and rapturous audience, who obviously wished the program had been longer, Mr. Abramowitsch played three encores—"Waltz in A flat" by Chopin, "The Juggler" by Toch (a venture by this composer into modern sonorities, saucy and piquant, like myriad bits of a Schubert waltz, — one of a chain of waltzes—all "heimweh."

Felicitations and profound thanks are due the Carmel Music Society and all those who made possible the purchase of the piano, with a special acknowledgment to the Board of Directors for their generosity in inviting everyone to a "free" and never-to-be-forgotten concert.

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Edna Lockwood's 3rd. Grade.

Junior Red Cross awards are to be given at the next Student Body assembly. Victoria Bivins and Julia Wilson from our room are to get awards. It takes 100 points to get an award. Points are earned by packing Christmas boxes, knitting afghan squares and going to the meetings. —Ina Adams.

I hope you had a very nice Valentine Day. We had a very nice time. We had a party. We had a Valentine box. I brought Valentines for the children.

—Ann Buchanan.

Once my sister and I went horseback riding. I had to ride an old plug. We started down the street toward the Mission Ranch. The horse I was on, her name was Bessie, stopped. She stopped because she was an old plug you know, and she started eating grass. My sister got mad because I couldn't get Bessie out of the grass. Then Bessie got out of the grass and started bucking. The end. —Walter Marx.

On our way to Carmel we stopped in Long Beach. We went to the dock to see if my Daddy's Navy instructor was on board the milk ship, the Golden Bear. Daddy went on board. Then, after a while, my Mother and sister and I went on board. We saw Gov. Warren coming off the ship. We went to the ship's lounge and I had some milk. Then we went back on deck and saw a jeep pull upon dock with a trailer in tow and unload some more milk. The milk was being taken to Europe to feed the starving children.

—Franklin Snow.

We have two new children in our room. They are Diana Grimm and Franklin Snow. Diana came from Newport, R. I., and Franklin came from Charles County, Maryland. —Carole Giem.

We had a play called Little February. There were all the months of the year. They all picked on little February because she is so small. Those in the play were: Father Time, Mike Koroslev; Little February, Diana Grimm; the other months were: Ina Adams, Pamela Dixon, Elizabeth Snite, Beverly Prior, Teresa Dorman, Hampton Stewart, Ann Buchanan, Geraldine Hawkeswood, Bill Johnston, Sharon Nielsen and Franklin Snow. The special days were: Abraham Lincoln's Birthday, Dennis Taplin; Valentine Day, Carole Giem; George Washington's Birthday, Bob Seipel; February 29, Walter Marx. Geraldine Hawkeswood was the announcer and Gary Lawrence pulled the curtain.

—Keith Sellards.

We had a play. I was Mother Heart. Those in our play were: Victoria Bivins and Dianne Weaver, heralds; Kim Wilson, a little boy, Patsy Petty, his sister; Pamela Dixon, Sharon Nielson, Keith Sellards, Bob Leidig and David Tobiasen were little hearts. The name of our play was Somebody's Valentine. —Julia Wilson.

My Dad went deer hunting. He killed one snake and two rabbits. And that was all he killed that day. —Dennis Taplin.

I came from Newport, R. I. My father is in the Navy. He got orders to come out here. We stopped in a lot of places on the way out to Carmel. —Diana Grimm.

Orville Rogers' 6th Grade.

Our class won a goldfish bowl (with fish in it) at the last Student Body meeting which was on January 23, 1948. We won it for having the most parents at the last P.T.A. meeting. We also received an Eskimo Pie for each person.

Our class president, Bonnie Vandervort, went up in front of the Student Body to receive the bowl for the Sixth Grade. We will keep the bowl until the next P.T.A. meeting. If then, we do not have the most parents, the bowl and the fish will go to the class that did. Hope we win next time.

—Richard Whitesides.

The Sixth Grade has three new pupils. The first is Georgeann Spencer. She is eleven years old and comes from Aptos where she attended Aptos Union School. Her hobby is horses. She has two pet dogs whose names are Corkey and Copper. She also has a brother who is fourteen years old. He goes to Carmel High.

The second new arrival is Geoffrey Newcomb who comes from Ann Arbor, Michigan, where he attended the Angel School. He has three brothers and three sisters. His hobby is collecting stamps from all over the world.

Our third new pupil is Bruce McCrea. He has just come back from Hawaii. He has three pet cockers and likes gardening.

We welcome these new additions and hope they enjoy Sunset School.

—Margaret Nieto.

Our class is going to put on a play February 20, (today). It will be called The Guilty Ones, and is about people who annoy the librarian and who are careless with the library's books.

Our main characters are the Judge, Richard Whitesides; Clerk, Christine Conley; District Attorney, Don Leidig; and Attorney for Defense, Howard Taggart.

Every member of the Sixth Grade will have a part. We have had fun rehearsing and hope you will be one of our audience today.

—Bonnie Vandervort.

For the last two weeks the whole school has been collecting funny books. Why? Well the reason is simple. The Junior Red Cross at school is having a funny book drive. The funny books will go to the soldiers at Fort Ord. The drive was divided into two parts. The lower grades had a separate drive and the higher grades had one of their own. The first week Mr. Rogers' Sixth Grade won with 48 funny books for the higher grades. The second week Mr. Rogers' class won again with 118. It was easy to win for the Sixth Grade because they read plenty of funny books.—Pauline Gonzales.

Saturday, February 7, my Dad, Sister, Grandfather and I, went up in the snow out in the Carmel Valley mountains. We went up past Chew's Ridge by Jamesburg. After we started up the hill, we saw a little snow and my sister shouted, "Oh, there's some snow!" She was excited because it was her first time in the snow.

After we got started up the hill we met a truck coming down. The man in the truck said there were eighteen inches of snow on the top. After we got to the top, we had a snow fight with my Dad and Grandpa. My Dad and Grandpa were against me. My Dad made a big snow ball and landed it on top of my head, but I never knew it hit me because it was so soft.

The Lore of the Unicorn, by Odell Shepard, Houghton Mifflin Co., Boston and N. Y., 1930.

From the time of antiquity there has persisted the strangely beautiful legend of a mysterious beast, the unicorn. Appearing in such widely different civilizations as the Babylonian, Chinese and European, "this pure animal, the beast of light" became in the Middle Ages the poetic symbol of man's deep insights, then gradually through the centuries deteriorated until today it is no more than the object of antiquarian research.

In his book, The Lore of the Unicorn, Odell Shephard has examined this legend and through it the course of our western civilization as well. From ancient writings he turns up convincing evidence that the unicorn must have been compounded from descriptions of several animals, the rhinoceros and the wild ass most certainly, with sometimes the goat, the antelope or the ox. This strange confusion of three beasts in one must have been pieced together from the recollections of travellers. Some had tales of the occult virtues of the rhinoceros horn, others knew of the wild ass, still others had seen in Tibet herds of antelope grazing, their nearly straight horns in profile giving the appearance of a single horn. But no matter how the physical characteristics of the unicorn might vary, his spiritual quality remained always the same. He was a beneficent creature, proud, fleet, noble and solitary, with magical powers of healing in his horn. Legend has it that descending to a pool of poisoned water he purified it by dipping his horn, thus making it possible for the other animals to drink. The horn was of benefit to man as well, for used as a beaker or ground to powder and taken as a potion it afforded protection against poison. The unicorn had, thus, the qualities of a savior.

He lived on, purely a literary legend for centuries, until through the King James Translation he came into the Bible and thus drew closer to the experience of man. It was, however, through the medium of the Bestiary that the popular tradition of the unicorn was spread throughout Europe. In this strange collection of old wives' tales folk lore colors the legend most significantly by the addition of the Virgin Capture.

Swift, powerful, solitary, the unicorn could never be taken alive. But if a virgin were seated alone in the wood he approached willingly, knelt before her and placed his head in her lap. Then hunters, slipping a cord around his neck, might lead him to the king. Thus grew the myth of the Holy Hunt and the Virgin Capture which, tied in as it was with the Cult of Chastity, was taken over by the Church. The Holy Hunt became the symbol of the Incarnation, the virgin was Mary, and the unicorn, now identified with Christ, was glorified in religious art and carved into the cathedrals.

Chivalry having chastity and nobility as its ideals, the unicorn quite naturally slipped into heraldry. On seals and coats-of-arms there he was—the reminder of what a knight should be—pure and strong, a protector of the weak.

Reflecting upon the strangeness of the legend, one wonders what makes the unicorn so poignantly sad and convincing. For the modern, the story is overlaid with Freudian implications. But this Freudian twist as well as the Christian symbolism, far from clarifying the legend, seems to render it all the more darkly mysterious. It is as if Man by means of the unicorn had told a spiritual truth about his own nature. Poor Man! Wild, proud and lonely in the core of his being, yet always driven by the need to surrender himself. Could it be the unicorn is man?

But nowhere does Odell Shepard suggest this interpretation. The reason for the legend's poignancy is perhaps suggested in his final reflec-

WINTER MORNING

Filliped, buffeted, I stride on a boy's feet,
Edged by a sharp, keen breath, vigorous as a blow,
Bracing as a cold shower and with the beat
Of a coarse brush I am rubbed to a glow,
Rinsed and new as boyhood, from top to toe.

I am born again, fresh and sweet as corn
On its own stalk, unstained in every limb
As a tree after rain: I am reborn,
Scoured and scrubbed to be filled to the brim,
A horn to hold the white dawn like a hymn.

Beauty is bare that I may see it clear,
Like one long blind who never thought to see,
And music, muted long, full-toned, I hear,
The only listener to a symphony,
And old dreams from fresh springs flood all of me.

—Alex R. Schmidt.

CARMEL COAST

Sand dunes —
with tawny manes —
wind-tossed . . .
Their clenched-rock claws grasping the sea —
where ribbons of kelp
swirl dark satin in a sun-flecked tide.

Old cypresses
sprawl
against the salt-tanged blue, their twisted limbs
grotesquely beautiful, defying the centuries!

QUERY AFTER LISTENING TO THE NEWS

Who is it keeps the people from the people?
What snarling malice watches at the gate
Between earth's fields? Across what fangs of hate
Must hands be stretched before the world is healed?
To whose advantage goes it that distrust
Be troubled up, and anger blown aflame?
Who stirs these ills? What evils are to blame
For keeping simple people from each other?

Is not the will-to-love a natural urge
When human beings live their natural lives
Weilding their tools beneath a common day?
By what then is it thwarted? Can the scourge
Be rooted out, till earth-won peace survives
And men, re-found as brothers, work and play?

Carmel Story . . .

THE HOUSE OF MARTIN—Chapter VII.

By Daisy Bostick

William Martin married Anna Hatton, thus welding two of the most prominent families of this region. Their ranch in Carmel Valley is noted for its orderliness and its beautiful setting and they have a very modern house under spreading oak trees. It is surrounded by a mixed orchard with pears predominating. Their daughter Emily and her husband, Leonard Williams, have now taken over the management of the property. The Williams have two children. William Martin's son, Hatton Martin, now lives in Gilroy.

Isabel, the little sister of John Martin's big boys, became the wife of Robert Leidig in the early days when Carmel was just a small village. She tells many amusing stories involving some of the characters of that time. Robert Leidig was prominent in the business life of Carmel when it was going through its first growing pains. His interest in civic affairs, especially in the Fire Department, was keen. Perhaps he, more than anyone else, was responsible for evolving out of the original sand, bucket and bag brigade the very efficient modern apparatus which now gives twenty-four hour protection to the citizens of Carmel. The Leidigs had three children. The two boys were war casualties and the daughter, Jean, is now Mrs. Raymond Draper, with two babies of her own, James and Robert.

Roy Martin, an experienced Carmel Valley rancher, has always specialized in fruit growing and has taken an important part in the activities of the ranchers in their efforts to bring about better farm conditions. He married Metta Schulte. This was another case of the fusion of two important valley families.

To the Roy Martins were born three children, Royden, John, and Elizabeth. John, called Jack, is now running the ranch for his father. He took an agricultural course at the University of California, and prior to the outbreak of the war made a good record by working on farm erosion for the government. Upon his enlistment in the navy he climbed up the ladder of titles quickly for one so young and returned home as Lieutenant-Commander.

Royden is an artist and has achieved recognition, as his canvases have already found a wide market.

Elizabeth Martin Hackbarth, whose husband was a war casualty, has one child and is living in Carmel.

Robert Martin, third son of old John Martin and long deceased, had two children, Kenneth Martin and Vivian Martin La Pierre. They live on one of the ranches which their father and his brothers pooled their resources to buy many years ago and on which potato crops were raised and exported to the gold mines.

James Martin, the eldest son of the Martins, now deceased, became a successful farmer acquiring ranches in the Salinas and San Joaquin valleys. He had one son, James H. Martin, who was killed in an automobile accident several years ago.

Shortly after the Martins immigrated to California they were followed by their cousins, Allan and Robert Stirling and Agnes Stirling Webster. The Stirlings acquired lands and settled near the towns of Castroville and Salinas. A number of the descendants of the Stirling family still live in the vicinity of Salinas, taking an active part in the business and community life. Duncan Stirling was superintendent of school of Monterey County for many years.

When the pioneer Martins were establishing themselves at the Mission Ranch visiting was much in vogue. It was the custom for members of the family to get into the old spring wagon and go to visit their relatives. A visit of a couple of weeks at a time was not uncommon. The John Martin ranch at the Mission was the most popu-

ORDINANCE NO. 19

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING SEWER CONSTRUCTION AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL PROVIDING FOR THE EMPLOYMENT OF A PLUMBING INSPECTOR, PROVIDING FOR PLUMBING PERMITS AND FIXING FEES THEREFOR AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR THE VIOLATION OF THE PROVISIONS THEREOF.

The Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District, Monterey County, California, does ordain as follows:

ARTICLE I.
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 1. Rules and Regulations

The following rules and regulations respecting sewer construction and disposal of sewage and drainage of buildings, connection to the sewerage system of the Carmel Sanitary District are hereby adopted, and all work in respect thereto shall be performed as herein required and not otherwise.

Section 2. Violation Unlawful

Following the effective date of this ordinance it shall be unlawful for any person to connect, to construct, to install or provide other means of sewage disposal from any building in said District except by connection to the sewerage system of said District in the manner as provided in this ordinance, or as hereafter prescribed.

Section 3. Plumbing Inspection Compensation.

The Sanitary Board of said District shall employ a qualified person to perform the duties of inspecting all plumbing, sewerage and sanitary drainage work and facilities in said District. The person so employed shall receive as compensation for his services for making inspections required by ordinance, orders and regulations from time to time enacted and ordered by the Sanitary Board, a sum to be fixed by the Board. He shall serve at the pleasure of said Board.

Section 4. Fees

The following fees shall be paid to the Secretary of the district at the office of the Carmel Sanitary District:

For issuing permit	$1.00
For inspecting a house sewer	.50
For inspecting a lateral sewer	.50
For inspecting house plumbing for each of first ten fixtures	.50
and for each additional fixture	.25

In the event any plumbing work is started prior to the date of the permit—the foregoing fees shall be doubled.

Section 5. Right of Entry

The plumbing inspector shall wear or carry an official badge of office or other evidence etsablishing his position as such, and upon showing his credentials he shall have the right of entry in and upon any and all buildings and premises within said District for the purpose of making inspections, reinspections or otherwise performing such duties as may be necessary in the enforcement of the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 6. Master Plumbers— Registration.

Every master plumber operating, conducting and carrying on a trade or business of, or performing work as a master plumber in said District, shall register his name, age and place of business with the Secretary of the Board, and pay to said Secretary a fee therefor amounting to $2.50. It shall not be lawful for any person to carry on, conduct or operate in the trade or business of plumbing in the District unless he is a master plumber registered as herein provided.

Section 7. Bond of Plumber.

Before any master shall operate, conduct or carry on the trade or business of a master plumber in said District, he shall be bonded for the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) to be given by a surety company authorized to transact business in the State of California and conforming to the form of bond regularly adopted by the Board and on file with the Secretary.

Section 8. Responsibility for Defects

All plumbers shall be held strictly responsible for any and all acts of agents or employees done under this ordinance by virtue of his or their registration. Upon being notified by the plumbing inspector of any defect arising therefrom in the plumbing system of a building or of any violation of this ordinance, the person or persons having charge of said work shall immediately correct the same.

Section 9. Registration Exclusive.

Any registered master plumber lending his registration certificate to any person or persons or taking out permits in his or their names at the office of the District Secretary for the use of any person or persons not regularly registered or who does not comply in every way with the requirements of this ordinance shall have his or their permit suspended and revoked.

Section 10. Duties of Plumbing Inspector.

The plumbing inspector shall maintain office hours necessary to efficiently conduct and carry out his duties.

He shall require, examine and check plans and specifications, drawings, descritpions and/or information submitted to him by any person applying for a permit and upon approval thereof, issue it.

He shall inspect all plumbing and drainage work authorized by any permit, for the purpose of determining whether or not such work complies with the provision of this or other ordinances and amendments thereto, approving or condemning the same in whole or in part as the conditions require.

In the event the inspector finds any violation of ordinances or regulations of the Sanitary District, he shall notify the offender in writing, setting forth the violation and order compliance therewith. In the event of non-compliance, the Secretary of the Sanitary Board shall be notified thereof.

ARTICLE II.
Definitions

Section 1. Definitions

For the purpose of this ordinance the terms used herein are defined as follows:

Section 2. District is the Carmel Sanitary District.

Section 3. Sanitary Board is the Governing Board of said District.

Section 4. District Secretary is the Secretary of said Board.

Section 5. County is the County of Monterey.

Section 6. Person is any person, firm, company, corporation or association.

Section 7. Street is any public highway, road, street, avenue, alley, way, easement or right of way.

Section 8. Master Plumber is any person who by reason of his skill in the planning, superintendence and practical installation of plumbing and sanitary fixtures who is registered as herein provided.

Section 9. Journeyman Plumber is a person who installs, alters and/or repairs plumbing and drainage systems, or parts thereof, as an employee of a master plumber, but who does not furnish any materials or supplies therefor.

Section 10. House sewer is any sewer or drain beginning at the plumbing or drainage outlets of any buildings and running to the property line.

Section 11. Lateral Sewer is the projection of the house sewer within a public street.

Section 12. Outside sewer is a private sewer beyond the limits of the district.

Section 13. Collecting sewer— Whenever two or more house sewers or two or more lateral sewers are connected to a sewer that sewer is defined as a collecting sewer and it must have a minimum inside width of six inches (6").

Section 14.—House Drain is that part of the horizontal piping of a house drainage system which receives the discharge of all soil, waste and other drainage pipes inside the walls of any building and conveys the same to the house sewer outside of the foundation walls of such building.

Section 15. Main Soil or Waste Vent is that part of the main soil or waste pipes above the highest installed branch of fixture connection extending through the roof.

Section 16. Vent Pipe is any pipe provided to ventilate a drainage and plumbing system of piping and to prevent syphonage and back pressure.

Section 17. Soil Pipe is any pipe which conveys the discharge of water closets with or without fixtures to the house drain or house sewer.

Section 18. Back Vent Pipe is that part of a vent pipe line which connects directly with an individual trap underneath or back of the fixture and extends to branch, main soil or waste pipe at a point higher than the fixture or fixtures and traps which it serves.

Section 19. Unit Vent is one which is so arranged that one pipe will serve two (2) traps.

Section 20. Circuit Vent is a connection made by joining a nearly horizontal trap outlet with a waste and vent in such a manner that a continuous vent is formed.

Section 21. Waste pipe is any pipe which receives the discharge of any fixtures except water closets and carries the same to the soil pipes or house drains.

Section 22. Trap is a fitting constructed to prevent the passage of air or gas through a pipe without materially affecting the flow of sewage or waste matter.

Section 23. Depth of Trap Seal is indicated by the heights of the water column measured between the overflow and the dip separating the inlet and outlet arms of the trap.

Section 24. Deep-seal is a term applied to a trap having a water seal twice the depth of the common trap.

Section 25. Sub-soil Drain is that part of the drainage system which conveys the ground or seepage water from the foot of the walls or below the cellar bottom independent of the house drain.

Section 26. Conductors or Roof Leaders are pipes which carry the storm water or rain from the roof of a building to the yard.

Section 27. Dead End is that part or branch of a drainage system which is without a free circulation of air.

Section 28. Private Sewer is one which has an independent sewage disposal not connected with a public sewer and which accommodates one or more houses.

Section 29. Septic Tank System is composed of reservoirs or tanks which receive crude sewage and by bacterial action, effects liquidation thereof, thus preparing it for clarification and purification which take place by further bacterial action in the Nitrification Ducts composed of drain tile extending from the tank into the sub-soil. The field tile drain shall be laid not less than eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the ground. The tile to be laid on at least three (3) inches of rock and covered with same amount of rock. The size of rock or gravel to be not more than one (1) inch mesh. The length of the tile drain shall be not less than one hundred (100) feet and shall have a fall of not more than one-eighth (⅛) inch to one (1) foot. This system must be approved by an authorized representative of the Carmel Sanitary District.

Section 30. Cesspool is an excavation in the ground which receives the discharge of a drainage system or part thereof, so designed and constructed as to retain the organic matter and solids discharging therein, but permitting the liquids to seep through the bottom and sides.

A cesspool shall have a diameter of at least four feet inside measurement and shall be located at a distance not less than twenty (20) feet from any dwelling nor less than ten (10) feet from any building without special permission of the Sanitary Board.

The side walls shall be at least eight (8) feet in height and four (4) inches in thickness and shall be built of redwood or hardburned brick. Where redwood is used the crib construction shall be used and the brick shall be spaced not more than two and a half (2½) inches apart.

Each cesspool shall have a strong and firm cover of brick and cement or redwood not less than eighteen (18") inches below the surrounding surface of the ground.

Section 31. Sanitary Plumbing is understood in this ordinance to denote plumbing so designed and installed that it can be kept clean, is free from defects in construction and conforms in every particular to the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 32. Alignment is understood in this ordinance to indicate in a straight line.

Section 33. Terminal is that part of a drainage or vent system which projects above the roof of the building or the end of the house drain which connects to the main sewer.

Section 34. Plumbing is the art or trade of putting into buildings the vents, tanks, pipes, traps, fittings and fixtures for conveying the waste sewage, etc., including the installation, changing or replacing of any part of the drainage or waste system of any building.

Section 35. Plumbing Fixture is an approved receptacle or device intended to receive sanitary sewage and to discharge same into a soil pipe, waste pipe or special waste pipe with which it is connected.

Section 36. Plumbing System includes all plumbing fixtures and traps, or soil, waste, special vent and waste pipes, and all sanitary sewage pipes within the property lines of the premises.

Section 37. Iron stone means vitrified clay.

Section 38. Unsanitary includes the following and similar conditions:

(a) Any trap which does not maintain a proper trap seal;

(b) Any opening in the plumbing system, except where lawful, which is not provided with an approved water-sealed trap;

(c) Any plumbing fixture, or other waste discharging receptacle or device, which is not supplied with water, sufficient to flush it and maintain it in a clean condition;

(d) Any defective fixture, trap or pipe;

(e) Any trap, except where in this ordinance exempted, directly connected to a plumbing system, the seal of which is not protected against siphonage and back pressure, by a vent pipe;

(f) Any connection, cross connection, construction or condition which allows or makes possible the entrance of sewage, non-potable water, acids or other harmful or injurious liquids or substances into the potable water supply;

(g) Back siphonage created by any means whatsoever;

(h) The foregoing enumeration of conditions shall not preclude the application of the terms to other conditions which are in fact unsanitary.

ARTICLE III
Sewers

Section 1. House Sewer: Permit Required.

A house sewer shall not be constructed or a connection made to the lateral sewer in the District without first obtaining a permit therefor from the plumbing inspector.

Section 2. Trenches: Inspection.

All trenches shall be left open and all side sewers and connections to the main or lateral sewers must be left open for inspection, until inspected and approved in writing by the plumbing inspector. Upon written approval after such inspection, trenches shall immediately be backfilled, and the easement restored to its original condition.

Section 3. Who May Install.

It shall be unlawful for any person to install or construct house sewers or make connections to a lateral sewer in the District who is not a master plumber, registered as herein provided, or who is not a registered licensed plumbing contractor; provided however, that a permit may be issued as a special owner's permit authorizing the actual owner of any premises to install his house sewer and make connection to an existing lateral sewer, and when so issued the work shall be done only by such owner or a member of his immediate family residing with such owner, and if this or any other provision hereof shall be violated by the holder of such special owner's permit, such permit shall be immediately revoked, and the holder thereof shall be liable to the penalty hereinafter provided for violation of this ordinance.

Section 4. House Sewer Materials.

Lateral sewers shall be constructed of vitrified, salt-glazed clay sewer pipe, or pipes designated by board, and fittings having an internal diameter of not less than four (4) inches, such pipe to conform in all respects to the requirements of Federal Specification SS-P-361, or of cast iron pipe having an internal diameter of not less than four (4) inches, such pipe to conform in all respects with the requirements of Federal Specifications WW-P-401. House sewers shall be constructed of such vitrified pipe or of cast iron pipe of the quality herein specified. Where the house sewer is under any building or structure, or within two (2) feet of any bearing wall or foundation thereof, cast iron pipe must be used.

Section 5. Main Connection.

Lateral sewers shall be connected to the main sewer or collecting sewer at a standard tee branch, where such tee branch is installed in place in such main sewer within the street frontage of the property served by the main sewer and facing the said property. Where no such tee branch is available, connection to the main or lateral sewer shall be made by tapping the main sewer and making the connection therewith, all of which shall be done under the supervision and direction of employees of the District.

Section 6. Lateral Sewers must be constructed by district employees as provided in Ordinance No. 15.

Section 7. Collecting Sewers must be constructed by district employees as provided in Ordinance No. 16.

Section 8. Depth and Level of House Sewer.

Unless it is impossible to do so by reason of the conformation of the ground, house sewers shall have a depth at the property line of not less than two (2) feet between the top of the pipe and the ground surface, and shall have a uniform slope toward the main sewer of not less than one-quarter (¼) inch vertical to one (1) foot horizontal.

The house sewer at the connection to the house drain shall never be less than twelve (12) inches below the surface of the ground, providing the minimum of one-quarter (¼) inch fall per foot will permit.

Section 9. Cleanout and Housetrap Required.

Every house sewer shall end in a wye branch connecting to the house drain, the straight run end being closed by a cap to be available as a cleanout.

A house trap must be placed on the house side of the cleanout. It shall be carried above ground at a height not higher than the trap of the lowest fixture. The vent cap thereof shall not be sealed.

Section 10. Inspection.

It shall be unlawful for any person to construct any new sewer or addition to any old sewer, without first reporting said proposed construction, or addition to the plumbing inspector. The fact of completion and readiness for inspection shall also be reported to the building inspector. In no case shall the sewer be covered at any point, within or without the building lines, until the same has been inspected and accepted.

Section 11. Storm Water Prohibited

No leaders from roofs and no surface drains for rain water shall be connected to any house sewer. No surface or sub-surface drainage, rain water, storm water or seepage shall be permitted to enter any house sewer by any device or method whatsoever, nor shall any septic tanks or cesspools or the drains therefrom be connected to any house sewer.

Section 12. Industrial Waste Permits.

No person shall discharge any industrial waste or any garbage or any solid, semi-solid or liquid substance resulting from any industrial manufacturing or commercial process or from any garage, service station, or automobile washrack, into any house sewer or into any main or collecting or lateral sewer in the District, without having obtained a permit to do so from the Sanitary Board.

Section 13. Id. Regulations.

Permits to discharge such substances shall be granted in accordance with the special conditions of each case and shall be subject to reasonable rules, regulations, and requirements, to prevent excessive alkalinity or acidity or excessive discharge of organic or inorganic substance in solution or in suspension, whether liquid, semi-solid, or solid.

Section 14. Id. Removal of Solids.

All persons discharging industrial wastes of whatsoever kind or nature into any side sewer or into any street sewer shall by appropriate process remove all possible solid materials from the waste and shall neutralize or otherwise adequately treat such wastes upon their premises so that the discharged wastes shall not have an excessive quantity of suspended or dissolved solids, nor an excessive biochemical oxygen demand, nor excessive alkalinity, acidity, corrosiveness, or offensiveness.

Section 15. Septic Tanks. Cesspools. When Permitted.

It shall be unlawful to connect the plumbing or sanitary drains of any building or structure located within the District to any septic tank or cesspool when the property is located within a distance of one hundred and fifty (150) feet of any main or laterial sewer and the topography is not such as to make it impossible to connect with the main or lateral sewer. Septic tanks will be permitted to be constructed when the house, building or structure is located more than one hundred fifty (150) feet from any main or lateral sewer, or when the topography is such as to make it impossible to connect with a main or lateral sewer. Septic tanks, when permitted, shall be constructed so as to fully comply with the ordinances and regulations of the District. A cesspool may be installed only by permission of board.

Section 16. Privies.

Outside privies or vaults shall not be maintained, used, or operated.

ARTICLE IV.
Outside Sewer

Section 1. Permits and Fees

Permission shall not be granted to connect any outside lot sewer to any lateral or main sewer in the District unless a permit therefor is first obtained from the Sanitary Board, and, a connection fee therefor shall be determined by the board and paid to the Secretary.

An annual fee shall be determined by the board and shall be paid for such service on July 1st of each year for the fiscal year. Such fee shall be prorated for the period to the next July 1st, according to the number of months to run.

Section 2. Special Outside Agreements.

Where special conditions exist relating to an outside sewer, they shall be the subject of a special contract made by the Sanitary Board.

Section 3. Permit Optional.

The granting of such permission shall in any event be optional with the Sanitary Board.

Section 4. Connection Agreement

In no event shall such permission be granted unless the applicant shall first enter into a contract in writing whereby he shall bind himself, his heirs, successors and assigns to abide by all the ordinances, rules and regulations regulating the manner in which such sewer shall be used, the manner of connecting therewith, and the plumbing and drainage in connection therewith, and also shall agree relating to the use of said sewer, and agree to pay for such privilege the annual fee herein provided.

ARTICLE V.
House Plumbing

Section 1. Specifications. Soil or waste pipes and back vents shall conform to the sizes set forth in the following chart: where any horizontal waste line not over ten (10) feet in length serves one fixture, 1½" pipe may be used.

Kind of Fixtures	No. of Fixtures Allowed	Size of Soil or Waste Pipe	Size of Back Vent

Section 1. a. Galvanized wrought iron and steel pipe shall not be permitted for underground waste pipe.

Section 2. Old Structures.

When any changes are made in waste, soil or drain pipes in old buildings, they shall be run and vented in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 3. Relocation of Existing Building.

When a building is removed from one part of the District to another existing plumbing must be brought into conformance with the requirements of this ordinance.

Section 4. Inspections and Tests.

When the rough plumbing in any building is completed it shall be completely filled with water to the highest fixture and notice given that the same is ready for inspection. Any person doing any work under the provisions of this ordinance shall at the time of any inspection, if ordered so to do, remove one or more pieces of pipe, or one or more fittings, in order to facilitate the thorough inspection of such work. Immediately upon the completion of the plumbing system of any premises notice shall be given to that effect by the plumber in charge of the work and the work must be ready for final inspection.

Section 5. Compounds Prohibited. Defective Work Removed.

Gas Fitters' cement or any other compound shall not be used in repairing or installing fittings or pipes. Any fittings or pipe will be considered defective and unreliable when upon examination any puncture or split is found, and any fittings or pipe found defective shall at once be removed and replaced.

Section 6. Extra Heavy Pipe

Where under these rules it is required to use extra heavy cast iron pipe, then the pipe inclusive of the hub, shall average the following weight to each five (5) feet length:

Diameter inches	Weight per lineal foot pounds
2	5½
3	9-45/100
4	13
5	17
6	20
7	27
8	34
12	54

Where extra heavy pipe is required all fittings used in making connections with such pipe must correspond in weight and quality and all pipes and fittings must have the extra heavy stamp exposed to view of the person making the inspection.

Section 7. Vents and Leaders.

Galvanized wrought iron or steel pipe may be used for vents or leaders and when so used it must be of the following average thickness and weight per foot.

Diameter inches	Thickness inches	Wt. per lineal ft. lbs.
1½	.150	2.24
2	.154	3.61
2½	.204	5.74
3	.217	7.54
3½	.226	9.00
4	.237	10.65
4½	.246	12.34
5	.259	14.50
6	.280	18.76
7	.301	23.27
8	.422	28.18

Section 8. House Drain

Every house hereafter erected, must have the house drain constructed of not less than four (4) inch cast iron pipe and extended at least two (2) feet outside of the foundation wall or walls or overhangs, such as porches.

It is optional whether the cast iron pipe is run to the front or side of the building or to the rear of the building, but in any case all waste shall connect to a four (4) inch cast iron drain.

Section 9. Discharge Angles.

Waste pipes from all fixtures shall discharge into a cast iron drain at an angle of not greater than sixty (60) degrees. In changes of direction in either drain, soil or waste pipes, a cleanout must be placed of the same bore as the pipe which it serves, and all cleanouts must be placed so as to be accessible at all times.

Section 10. Clearance Behind Cleanout.

Two (2) feet or more clearance must be had in back of all cleanouts and clearance must be in alignment with waste or soil pipe which cleanout serves.

Section 11. Extra Heavy C. I. Pipe.

In all buildings of three stories or more in height, where the vertical line of soil pipe reaches the height of thirty-six (36) feet or more, measuring from the floor on which the highest fixture is to be placed, to the point where the sewer leaves the building, the entire system shall be of the quality known to the trade as Extra Heavy cast iron pipe, fittings to be the same; branches may be of standard galvanized wrought iron pipe with cast iron Durham fittings.

Section 12. Joint Materials—Vitrified Pipe.

All joints on vitrified pipe shall be made with Portland Cement, properly mixed with clean, sharp sand; or tegal or its equivalent the proportion thereof being one part cement, one and one-half parts sand. Each joint, when laid, must be properly cleaned on the inside of house lateral by a suitable scraper or swab of pipe before the succeeding pipe is put in place. The sewer pipe must be laid at a uniform grade throughout its entire length and in a straight line.

Section 13. Id. Cast Iron Pipe

Joints on cast iron pipe shall be made by first inserting a roll of hemp or oakum and thoroughly calking it in place and then following with pure melted lead, well calked and not less than ¾ inch deep, lead to be brought to top of hub and faced. No paint, varnish or putty will be allowed in the joints until they have been tested and passed upon by the inspector.

Section 14. Id. Other Pipes

Joints on brass pipe shall be standard screw joints and all burs or cuttings shall be removed. All screw joints shall be made with white or red lead or other approved compounds.

Connections between wrought iron or brass and cast iron shall be either a calked or a screw joint.

Joints in lead pipe or between lead and brass pipes shall in all cases be wiped solder joints.

Connections between lead and cast or wrought iron pipes shall be made with calked joint, a soldering nipple or a threaded joint, all unions used on the sewer side of traps shall be ground faced, and no slip joint connections will be allowed on sewer side of traps.

The connection between soil pipe and fixtures with combined earthern ware, vitreous china or enamelled iron shall be made with a solid brass floor flange, lead, or cast iron standard calked, screwed or calked to bend of pipe securely anchored to the floor and bolted to trap flange.

Section 15. Alternating Pipe Prohibited.

The use of intermediate sections of pipe of different quality or kind, such as the introduction of a section of iron stone pipe between cast iron pipe, or of standard cast iron pipe between extra heavy sections, or of cast iron pipe between iron stone pipe or of wrought iron or steel pipe between iron stone and similar type will not be allowed.

Section 16. Drain Connections.

(a) All floor drains, soil and waste pipes discharging below the sewer line of any building, and all pumps receiving drainage or waste, must be connected in a sanitary manner and in a good and workmanlike manner.

(b) Wash rack drains in public garages shall be constructed with an inverted sanitary tee or wye with a cleanout calked in the end, and carried through the wall of a catch basin or sump, not less than 18 inches by 18 inches deep, at a point 12 inches above the bottom of said sump, and covered with an approved cast iron grating, and piping to same shall be 4-inch cast iron pipe and fittings.

Section 17. Minimum Fall.

All sewer, drain, soil, waste and leader pipes shall have a continuous fall of not less than one-quarter (¼) inch to the foot, and if practicable, more.

Section 18. Suspending Pipes.

Where practicable, cast iron sewers, drains, soil, waste and leader pipes running in a cellar or lowest story of a building shall run along the wall of the building, or if this is not practicable be hung on iron hangers, securely fastened to the floor joists. Straps or hangers shall be placed at intervals not exceeding five (5) feet and near the hubs.

All hangers, pipe supports and fixture settings in or against masonry, concrete or stone backing shall be securely made with expansion bolts or other approved methods without the use of wood plugs, and all drainage and plumbing pipe shall be rigidly secured and supported so that the proper alignment will be retained.

When it is not practicable to run and fasten the iron sewer, drain, soil, waste or leader pipes as above directed, then they may be run in a french cut to uniform grade. Backgrounds, except under special conditions, must be provided for securing of closets, tanks, basins, sinks, brackets and all other wall fixtures or hangings.

Section 19. Cleanouts.

Heavy brass threaded "cleanouts" of at least one-eighth (⅛) of an inch in thickness in the ferrule parts and with three-sixteenths (3/16) of an inch thickness in the cover, to have solid cast square head of one and one-half (1½) inches square and one (1) inch in height, shall be placed at the end of each horizontal line of sewer or waste pipe of five feet or more and at the end of each tributary lateral. Cleanouts, the ferrule or body part of which are made of cast iron, may be used in lieu of all brass, provided the same comply with all other requirements hereof.

Section 20. Waste Pipes

Waste pipes may be of lead, but only for branches not exceeding ten (10) feet in length and where used to connect with cast iron, provided however, that no lead pipe shall be allowed outside of a building or in the ground. Whenever practicable and under those rules and regulations lead waste pipe is used, it must intersect at the same angle as given by wye's 1/16, 1/6, or 1/8 bends.

Section 21. Bell Traps Prohibited.

The use of bell traps is strictly prohibited.

Section 22. Steam Exhaust Prohibited.

No steam exhaust shall connect with any sewer, drain, soil, leader or waste pipe. A steam condenser, however, may be permitted to receive the steam exhaust and the condensation pipe may be connected to the sewer system.

Section 23. Pipes Prohibited in Certain Walls.

Except as provided in the next section, no sewer, drain, soil, waste, leader or vent pipe of any kind shall be built in brick, stone or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipes of this class they must be run in suitable reveals or recesses, provided, however, that in horizontal walls, where sewer pipe passing behind elevator shafts requires that it be offset therein, the inspector may, in his discretion, permit it to be built in the wall to prevent weakening of the same.

Section 24. Wall Openings to be Covered.

When and wherever any sewer, drain, soil, waste, leader, vent or supply pipe passes through any foundation wall, or partition, and there is a surrounding space, then this space shall be satisfactorily filled or guarded with the same materials as that of which the foundation wall or partition is made, or it may be covered with suitable metal flashing or collars, so as to effectually prevent leaving an avenue for the entrance of vermin into the premises.

Section 25. Refrigerators, etc. Method of Connection.

Water filters, ice boxes or refrigerators shall in no case be directly connected to or with the sewage or drainage system, but they may be indirectly connected, provided the manner of connecting be approved by the inspector.

Section 26. Ventilators. Certain Materials Prohibited.

No brick nor sheet metal or earthen flue shall be used as a sewer or drain ventilator, nor shall any chimney flue be used for this purpose.

Section 27. High Soil Pipes To Be Extra Heavy.

In every building where the drop of the soil pipe exceeds 30 feet reckoning from the sewer line to the highest fixture the entire soil and waste pipe and the fittings, if of cast iron, shall be "extra heavy."

Section 28. Vent Materials.

Soil pipe stacks extending above the highest fixture and serving as a vent pipe, may be of standard cast iron pipe or galvanized wrought iron or steel pipe, but there shall not be intermediate section of different materials or quality.

Section 29. Avoid Angles.

The arrangement of sewer, drain, soil, waste, vent and leader pipes must be as direct as possible.

Section 30. Changes in Direction.

Except as provided for in these rules, all changes in the direction of sewer, drain, soil, waste and leader pipes shall be made with wye branches, 1-16, 1-6, or 1-8 bends.

Section 31. Offsets. When Permitted.

Offsets may be used, provided the angle they present is not more acute than that presented by a 1-16 bend.

Section 32. Bends, etc., Prohibited.

Straight crosses, bends and saddles are prohibited.

Section 33. Waste Pipe—Heel Outlets.

Four (4) by two (2) or any other heel outlet fitting will not be allowed to act as a waste pipe through the two (2) inch opening, excepting on vertical lines. On horizontal lines four (4) by two (2), or any other heel outlet fitting will not be allowed to act as a waste or vent pipe through a two (2) inch opening, unless the bottom of the two (2) inch opening is higher than the top level of four (4) inch receiving part of the fitting.

Section 34. Sanitary Tees. When Used.

Sanitary tees may be used on vertical pipes only.

ARTICLE VI.
Tests and Inspection

Section 1. Water Test.

All sewer, drain, soil, waste, and leader pipes (excepting sheet metal or iron stone leaders), must have all openings stopped and be filled with water to the highest fixture, and if deemed necessary, such water or other test shall be applied to iron stone pipes.

Section 2. Final Test

When a system or plumbing has been tested in sections, the final test shall be made with a water pressure equal to a column ten (10) feet above the highest point of the sewer or drain located within the premises.

Section 3. Wood Plugs Prohibited.

Wooden plugs shall not be allowed in the testing of a plumbing system.

Section 4. Plumbing Inspector. Certificate.

The testing of a plumbing system must be made in the presence of the plumbing inspector, and if the test proves satisfactory he shall issue a certificate to that effect.

Section 5. Previous Notice.

In all cases twenty-four (24) hours' notice must be given and filed in the office of the plumbing inspector when the work is sufficiently advanced for inspection.

Section 6. Condemned Work—Notice.

When the plumbing in any building or premises has been inspected and the work condemned and no certificate of satisfactory completion given, a written notice to that effect, shall be given informing the owner of the building or premises, or the agent of such owner, to repair the defective plumbing therein so as to place the building in a sanitary condition.

ARTICLE VII.
Rain Water Leaders

Section 1. Sanitary Use Prohibited.

Except as provided for in these rules, rain water leaders must never be used as a soil, waste, or vent pipe, nor shall soil, waste, or vent pipe be used as a rain water leader.

Section 2. Material.

Excepting outside leads, all leader pipes exceeding fifty-five (55) feet vertically reckoned from the roof's outlet to the point where the leader emerges from the buildings shall be of extra heavy cast iron or of standard galvanized wrought iron pipe from top to bottom.

Outside leaders however, may be of standard cast iron pipe in lieu of sheet metal.

Section 3. Inside Leaders.

When rain water leaders are placed inside of a building, they must be of cast iron or of galvanized wrought iron or steel and be properly calked with oakum and lead, just as if they were to be used as soil or waste pipes.

Section 4. Connections.

The connection between leader pipes must be made with a brass ferrule soldered to the sheet metal and calked with oakum and molten lead into the cast iron. If the leader connects to galvanized wrought iron or steel, then a satisfactory soldered connection must be made.

Section 5. Pipe to Gutter.

When a building is erected on a street line, the roof waters must be connected to the gutters, and the same shall be run in a cast iron pipe from a point five (5) feet above the curb level to and under the sidewalk to the gutter. The running of roof or surface water on sidewalks is hereby prohibited.

ARTICLE VIII
Toilets, Urinals, Hoppers, Trays Sinks and Floor Drains

Section 1. Urinal Drains.

Urinals and water closet floor drains may be connected to main waste-soil, or sewer pipe, provided such floor drains be properly trapped and vented and supplied with water, but no urinal waste shall act as the feed to any floor drain.

Section 2. Toilets.

Excepting flushometer closets, all water closets within a building must be supplied from separate tanks or cisterns, the water of which should not be used for any other purpose. Excepting flushometer, a group of water closets may be supplied from one (1) tank, but water closets located on different floors must not be supplied from one (1) tank.

Section 3. Certain Types Prohibited.

The use of plug, pan valve, or common hopper closets is strictly prohibited in any part of a building or premises. The use of flush rim hopper, off-set, or washout closets is not allowed, excepting as they are located outside the building proper. No rubber connections shall be allowed between water closets and vent pipes, nor shall any closet be set in plaster or similar substance.

Section 4. Tanks.

When water closets are supplied from tanks, the down flush shall in no case be less than one and one-quarter (1¼) inches in diameter.

Section 5. Lead Bends.

When a water closet is connected to the soil pipe by and through a lead bend, the outlet side of the bend must be properly wiped to a brass ferrule and the ferrule be properly calked into receiving hub.

Section 6. Id.

When a water closet is not connected to the soil pipe by a lead bend, it may be connected by and through a lead pipe lengthening piece, which shall be properly wiped to a heavy brass ferrule, and the ferrule properly calked into receiving hub.

Section 7. Id.

When under the two preceding sections, closets are connected by and through the lead pipe, suitable brass floor flanges shall be used. When the closet is connected to either cast iron or galvanized wrought iron or steel and regular brass ferrules and lead pipe and wiped joints are not used, then the conection between the closets must be made with an approved adjustable and threaded, or threaded and calked, floor flange connection.

Section 8. Materials.

When water closets are so constructed that the trap is part of the closet, then they must be all earthenware, or enameled iron or of a combination of these materials. All water closet receivers must be made of earthenware or of enameled iron. No stone, cement, brick, wooden or other porous substance will be permitted. This rule shall apply to single water closets built in series.

Section 9. Group Urinals.

A group of urinals may be supplied from one tank, the capacity of which is to be proportionate to the number of urinals supplied but in no case shall the capacity be less than one (1) gallon for each urinal served. The flush pipes must be sufficiently large.

Section 10. Id.

More than two (2) urinals shall be construed as being a group of urinals, and the flush pipe or pipes thereto must be so arranged as to provide an equalized pressure and volume of water to each and every urinal on the range.

Section 11. Tanks—Floors.

Excepting flushometer urinals, urinals situated on different floors or stories of the same building must be supplied by tanks located on the same floor or story as that on which the urinals are respectively located.

Section 12. Slop Hoppers.

Slop hoppers and scullery sinks, when set upon a floor, must be connected to the waste pipe with lead pipe wiped on a brass ferrule and calked with molten lead, or be connected with an approved iron or brass connection. Such hopper or sink shall not receive the waste of any fixture.

Section 13. Id.—Traps.

All slop hoppers and slop sinks shall be provided with suitable traps of not less than two (2) inches inside diameter.

Section 14. Id.—Waste Pipe.

When located upon a porch, four (4) enameled hoppers of slop sinks may be wasted into a three (3) inch pipe, and, if the crown of the trap is within two (2) feet of the stack waste pipe it shall not be necessary to back vent these fixtures but the waste stack shall be carried full bore to a point above the roof line.

Section 15. Wood Encasements Prohibited.

The use of bath tubs, the frame of which is wooden and which frame is lined with metal, is not allowed in any building or on any premises. All fixtures must be open to the free circulation of air, and must not be enclosed so as to harbor vermin.

Section 16. Traps and Vents.

As provided for in these rules, all fixtures must be effectively trapped and vented, and the traps and vents must be placed as near to the outlet of the fixtures served as practicable, all in conformity with this ordinance, and where excessive grease is accumulated a grease trap must be installed if required by the inspector.

Section 17. Id.—Distance.

In no case shall the trap serving a fixture be placed at a distance greater than one (1) foot from the outlet of the fixture it serves, nor shall the vent pipe serving a trap be placed at a distance greater than two (2) feet from the trap it serves.

Section 18. Wash Trays—Trap.

When a sink and wash tray or a range of laundry tubs about one another and they are practically one fixture and are in the same room, they may be served by one trap.

Section 19. Floor Drains.

Floor drains may be connected with main waste, soil, or house drain, provided said drains shall be properly trapped and vented and supplied with water. When subject to backflow said drains shall also be equipped with an adequate back water valve.

Section 20. Soda Fountains, etc. —Waste Fixture.

Wastes from fixtures installed in center of rooms, soda fountains and similar fixtures may be installed in accordance with one of the methods such as drum traps approved by the plumbing inspector.

Section 21. Mechanical Appliances.

Any mechanical appliance discharging into the sewage system shall have a trap.

Section 22. Grease Traps.

Grease traps shall be provided where there is an excessive amount of grease discharged into the system.

ARTICLE IX.
Vent Pipes

Section 1. Vents Through Roof.

All vent or air pipes shall be run separately or combined through the roof, and for one (1) foot above, and are to be left open.

Section 2. Vent Pipe Material.

All vent pipes under three (3) inches in diameter shall be of galvanized iron, wrought iron, cast iron, or steel pipe and the fittings shall be Durham or galvanized iron or cast iron, and all fittings shall comply with these rules as to angles and the precipitation of sediment. Combination soil and vent fittings which are tapped at all openings, or tapped and belled for calking are allowable.

Section 3. Avoid Vent Bends.

Ventilating pipes must be run with as few bends as possible, and excepting as provided for, must connect to and with the main branch vertical vent at an angle of 45 or 60 degrees. Where house structure makes the foregoing provision impossible, horizontal vents will be permitted, providing these be made with Durham fittings. No horizontal vent will be allowed below the top of the rim of the fixture it serves.

Section 4. Vent Intersections.

In no case shall a vent serving any fixture intersect a main or branch vent at a point of intersection less than three (3) feet six (6) inches above the floor upon which the fixture to be vented shall be located.

Section 5. Toilet Vents.

Water closets located within the building or upon any portion of the premises (except as provided for yard fixtures), if the soil pipe drop does not extend ten (10) feet, may be vented by a two (2) inch vent pipe for a distance of thirty-five (35) feet, otherwise the entire vent shall be two and one-half (2½) inches. Single water closets may be vented by a two (2) inch vent pipe and if a second water closet is added, one four (4) inch line will be required.

Section 6. Double Hubs.

Where, under these rules, a cast iron vent pipe is allowed, then double hubs are allowed, but on the vent pipe only.

Section 7. Vents in Extensions.

When fixtures are located within kitchens and similar extensions or when a roof is used for yard purposes or when an opening in a building is to be guarded, vents must be carried over to the main building regardless of distance, to a point not less than one (1) foot above the main building. Flagpoling of vents will not be permitted.

Section 8. Vent Distance from Property Line.

No soil or vent pipe shall terminate at a point within five (5) feet of the adjoining property line or any door or window.

Section 9. Repairs Excepted.

The requirements of these rules and regulations shall not be construed to include leaks, the repair of faucets, breaks in pipes or stoppage of pipes.

Section 10. Dental Cuspidors—Vent and Trap.

Dental cuspidors when connected to a waste pipe must be effectively vented and trapped.

Section 11. Toilet etc. Series—System.

Batteries of closets, urinals, basins, etc., may be installed by a continuous or circuit system.

Section 12. Separate Men and Women Toilets.

In all places of employment where men and women are employed separate and sufficient water closets shall be provided for men and women as required by these rules and regulations.

Section 13. Id.—Sign

The water closets provided for males shall be marked "Men's Toilet," and water closets provided for women shall be marked "Women's Toilet."

Section 14. Id. Minimum—Place of Employment.

In all places of employment mentioned in this ordinance not less than one water closet shall be provided for every ten (10) males, or less number; and not less than one (1) water closet shall be provided for every ten (10) females, or less number, and these water closet facilities shall be provided upon at least every second floor. Where there are employees in a basement, such basement shall be considered as being one story.

Section 15. Id.—Id.—Motels, etc.

In lodging houses and hotels, hereafter erected or altered, there shall be provided not less than one (1) water closet for every fifteen (15) males, or less number, and not less than one (1) water closet for every fifteen (15) females, or less number. The number of water closets required shall be determined from the number of lodging quarters provided in such lodging houses or hotels.

Section 16. Id.—Id. Residence and Business.

In all buildings used jointly for residence and business purposes, separate and sufficient water closets shall be provided for the use of families, employees and patrons of the place.

Section 17. Ventilation.

Each and every compartment wherein a bath, water closet, urinal or slop or scullery sink is situated shall be ventilated by means of a window opening directly to the external atmosphere or by means of an air shaft having an area of at least two (2) square feet. This air shaft shall continue of undiminished size to the roof and at this point its openings shall be equal in area to not less than that of the shaft.

Section 18. Id.—Individual.

No air shaft or window, ventilating either bath, water closet, urinal, slop or scullery sink compartment shall discharge into or ventilate any other compartment whatsoever.

Section 19. Series Ventilation.

The provisions of Section 19 of this Article shall not prevent the enlargement of air shafts to a size suitable and adequate to ventilate a series of closets, urinals, slop or scullery compartment.

Section 20. Id.—Time.

The requirements of these rules shall not apply to a ventilating system of sufficient capacity to exhaust to a point above the roof all the air in the compartment, or compartments, referred to in this section, every ten (10) minutes.

Section 21. Id.—Inspector Satisfaction.

In all cases covered by this ordinance the manner and system of ventilating must be installed to the satisfaction of the plumbing inspector.

ARTICLE X
Penalty

Section 1.

Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment in the county jail of Monterey County, California, not to exceed one (1) month, or both.

Section 2.

All ordinances and parts of ordinances in so far as they conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 3.

This ordinance shall be entered in the minutes of the Sanitary Board, shall be published once in The Carmel Pine Cone-Cymbal, a newspaper published in said District, and shall take effect upon the expiration of the week of such publication.

PASSED AND ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Carmel Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District, duly held on the 9th day of February, 1948, by the following vote:

Roving Script Photographer

Photographing Carmel for Script Magazine was Don Ornitz, up from Los Angeles with a great deal of enthusiasm and plenty of camera equipment. Unlike other LA photographers who are sometimes slightly upset when our enchanted peninsula fails to live up to their sordid south ideas, Mr. Ornitz was genuinely delighted with our superb coastline, our people, our houses. His camera roved all over and got down to beautiful China Bay in the Highlands. Choosing Richard Lofton as representative artist, Mr. Ornitz photographed him working in his Carmel Point studio, and doing outdoor sketching.

Lecture Tour

Dr. Robert Aurner left Carmel Wednesday morning, February 18, for a six weeks lecture tour through the United States speaking to business, professional and educational groups on business administration. Dr. Aurner's main title will be, "Public Confidence: The New Theory of Business," and he will speak on the subject under various other titles. Cities that he will visit and lecture in, are: Milwaukee, Chicago, Indianapolis, Richmond, Miami, Jacksonville, Baltimore, and Detroit, where he will speak to the National Office Management group. While in Chicago, Dr. Aurner will work on several consultant accounts for Chicago industries. Combining pleasure with business Dr. Aurner will visit with his mother Dr. Nellie S. Aurner, a professor of English Literature at the University of Iowa, and with his son Robert R. Aurner, Jr., who is a Junior at the University.

Dr. Aurner expects to return to the Peninsula just before Easter.

Pacific Grove Couple

Jean Eleanor Southwell of Pacific Grove and Jack E. Clothier of Pacific Grove were married at the Church of the Wayfarer at 3:00 p.m. Saturday afternoon, attended by Joan Mullnix of Carmel and Leland D. Cope of Pacific Grove. The bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Southwell, have been Carmelites for many years, and were also present at the wedding ceremony.

Wednesday the 18th of February, the Community Center Auxiliary held a luncheon and bridge party for seventy members at the Highlands Inn.

Bettingers Move In

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyland Bettinger, who have spent the last several years in the Valley, have now taken one of Mrs. Caroline Pulitzer's cottages at Tenth between Junipero and Mission and are rejoicing at being nearer to their friends. Mrs. Bettinger is on the staff of the Carmel Kiddie Shop, and Mr. Bettinger is toying with the idea of remodelling the barn into a studio. He is the author of Television Techniques and is known throughout the country for his oils and etchings, as well as for the art classes which he has conducted for many years.

Come Back, Janie

On top of Katie Ruster's and Libby Gibbon's sad notes from the East comes some real howling from Carmel's own girl, Janie Boone, born Jane Hopper right here in Carmel.Her father, writer James Hopper, lives on 14th and Carmelo. Janie says everyone sits about the San Remo, down in Greenwich Village, and growls about the cold. Nearly everyone there is an ex-Californian from the Black Cat, and when they go home, anyway to Janie's abode, nice beautiful horrible snow is blowing right through her rooms. Janie is at present secretary to the President of Window Advertising Inc., and is contemplating several other jobs, one of which might take her to Europe. She used to get up in Carmel and dash over to Cal Pac at five in the morning to see that all the fish got properly organized.

Crosby Builds

It seems Bing Crosby just can't keep away from that Pebble Beach golf course, especially near the 13th green, on the 17 Mile Drive. Anyway he intends to build a house around there with popular architect John Konigshofer to do the designing and contracting, and the Salinas Talcott Lumber Company to do the building. Bing left Tuesday for Hollywood but plans to return soon to supervise the building of his house. He says it's going to be just another cottage, but according to rumor, it will have something like eight bedrooms. Neat cottage, that!

Audubon Meeting

The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society last Friday evening held its February business meeting in Sunset School. The members voted unanimously to engage five nationally known speakers to bring colored motion pictures of wild life to Carmel during the 1948-1949 season, in view of the success which the Audubon Screen Tour lectures have been this year.

Plans were made for dinner to be held at La Ribera Hotel the evening of March 3, preceding the fourth screen tour lecture of this season. At this dinner meeting the members will have an opportunity to meet Tom and Arlene Hadley of Detroit, who will speak to the public on Happy Valley in Sunset Auditorium at 8 p.m. that evening.

Garden Section

Mrs. F. E. Naftzger, Chairman of the Carmel Woman's Club Garden Section, announces that the Section Meeting speaker next Monday afternoon, February 3, will be Professor Woodbridge Metcalf of the University of California College of Agriculture. His very important subject, California Trees and Conservation, will be illustrated by Professor Metcalf with colored Kodachrome slides.

Book Section

Mr. John Keppleman, publisher of the Pacific Grove Tribune, gave the Carmel Woman's Club Book Section last Monday afternoon a very interesting account of the phenomenal growth of the Time, Life, Fortune organization with which he was associated for nine years. There is a high percentage of ignorance among the people of this country about matters outside their immediate environment which Mr. Keppleman believes is not due to any lack of native intelligence but partly because national and international news is not brought to them in assimilable form. Editors and publishers of small weekly newspapers have a great opportunity and responsibility in this matter, said the speaker.

Hostesses at tea were Mrs. Kathryn Lansdowne and Mrs. A. E. Knox, and pouring were Mrs. Alton Walker and Mrs. William Eklund. Beautiful arrangements of succulents and delicate spring bloom in her own lovely ceramic containers were placed by Mrs. E. M. Beecher on the tea tables and the mantel.

Youth Fellowship

Usual Church of the Wayfarer Youth Fellowship meeting will be held Sunday, February 22, lead by Ursula Bartlett, and the topic will be "Broken Homes." Carroll Briggs and Ruth Dunlop are on the panel. Later, Dr. Fillmore Gray will conduct a question and answer period about the Church meeting.

Organ Vespers

Completing the third month of weekly programs of organ music presented for the enjoyment of the whole community, the Organ Vespers at the Church of the Wayfarer will present Ramona Jones as the organist on Wednesday from 5:15 until 6 p.m. Mrs. Jones is the organist at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Pacific Grove. As in all of the Organ Vespers there will be no offering, no sermon, but the opportunity to hear familiar and beautiful music in the setting of the Chapel of the Church of the Wayfarer.

Men of the Wayfarer

Alfred Vang, internationally known scientist and inventor, will be the speaker for the first meeting of a new organization, Men of the Wayfarer, to be held on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Hotel La Ribera. Dr. Francis H. Sparks, temporary chairman of the new organization, announces that the group for members and friends of the Church of the Wayfarer and their guests will hold monthly meetings with interesting speakers and discussions in which all may participate. John S. Seyers is the temporary vice chairman and Edward K. Neroda, secretary treasurer. Directors who have also served in the preliminary planning for the organization include: Harlan Reyburn, Herbert B. Blanks, Theodore T. Fehring, and Dr. K. Fillmore Gray.

At the first meeting of the Men of the Wayfarer on Thursday evening, in addition to Mr. Vang's address, he will demonstrate electronic equipment and discuss with the men his plans for the development of electronic research and manufacture on the Monterey Peninsula.

Dinner reservations are required, and may be made by telephoning the chairman, Dr. Sparks at 477-J.

Woman's Auxiliary

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Carmel, will meet each Wednesday in Lent (except the first Wednesday) at the Parish House at 2:00 p.m. to sew for the Diocesan Lenten project. This is the collection of good used cotton clothing and the making of layettes to be sent to the Saint Francis Mission at Upi, on the island of Mindanao, in the Philippines. It is a special pleasure to the Woman's Auxiliary of Carmel that their work will go to Saint Francis Mission, for in charge of it is Father James Trotter, who took summer duty at All Saints' in 1945. Deaconess Dawson, also well known to many on the Peninsula, has recently returned to duty at Upi.

Council of Churchwomen

The United Council of Churchwomen continues to send bundles of clothing to Europe. The third meeting to mend and alter clothing will be held at the Parish House of the Church of the Wayfarer on Thursday next, February 26, at 2:00 p.m. Anyone is welcome and those who cannot come to the meeting, but could sew at home, are asked to telephone to Mrs. Walter Lehmann, Carmel 1287, or to Mrs. Walter Johnston, Carmel 1378-M. Any old clothing, clean if possible, blankets, etc. will be most gladly received, and may be left at the Parish House. The sewing meetings occur on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays in each month.

Bahai Gathering

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Girl Scout House, the local Bahai assembly will present Rob Gulick, M.A., of Berkeley, who will speak on "The Power of a World Faith." Mr. Gulick is a member of the Department of Economics at the University of California, author of "Import—the Gain from Trade," and numerous articles on world relations. He has recently returned from travels which took him to England, France, Spain, Egypt, Iraq, and Iran. Visitors will be welcome.

Tau Mu Fashion Show

And yet another Fashion Show will be held at the Soldier's Club at Fort Ord on March 3 presented by the Peninsula Tau Mu group. Dessert and bridge will be part of the afternoon's show, and the spring clothes will be displayed from Holman's department store. Tau Mu members and models will be: Mrs. Harry Raine, Mrs. Arthur Barter, Jr., Mrs. Ernest Watson, Mrs. Charles Easterbrook, Mrs. John S. Nelson, and Mrs. A. H. Griffin.

The show will begin at 1:30, and reservations may be made with Mrs. Walter Helm, 2125-W. Proceeds from the afternoon will go partly to Army and Navy YMCA, and partly to Tau Mu scholarships. Mrs. Stanley Bishop, president of the group, will preside at the gathering.

Take that tense annual moment of spring suit decision in to HOWARD'S in Monterey where the ballerina silhouette in suits is being shown in crepe, covert cloth, botany gabardine, in all colors, sizes 10-16, and prices $32.50 to $65.00. There are high style designs by Leeds Ltd. of New York, and pure fashion performance in the beige suit with flared skirt, clever double pocket, bolero jacket, designed by Yablokoff of Kay Saks; change the brown belt to another color, match accessories, and you have repeat performances with one beige suit. See HOWARD'S for spring suits.

The rock-clean effect of the PINE DEW SUKIYAKI restaurant on Cass St. in Monterey is like the delicate line of a Japanese print; from the pine branch on the hearth to the slim table legs, all has the polished patina of quiet prints. Added to the Japanese dinners of sukiyaki, tempura, and teriyaki, will be other Japanese foods, all of which can be had a la carte if you wish, and there are American dinners if demanded by your apetite. It is fun to gather a crowd together, each order a separate dish, then share helpings and have a true Oriental feast.

A rose pink, sweetly smelling beauty treatment for your bathtub is to be found at the WALDO HICKS shop on Junipero. Known as Mule Kick, no sneeze provoking odor floats up as you unscrew the lid; you find a smooth creme polish to tidy up your sinks, tile work, linoleum, white woodwork, and brass and bronze bric-a-bac. Mule Kick is a fine abrasive and scrubs easily, whitely, and freshly clean. Get your spring cleaning jars from the WALDO HICKS shop.

Please yourself with a classic library recorded by the Webster wire recorder model 80 found at the CARMEL RADIO AND SOUND shop down an alley-way off San Carlos. This clever bit of machinery records and plays back anything you attach it to, reproducing every sound clearly. Have a good time, and a cheaper time, collecting a wire library, and also have a good time surprising your friends by playing their voices back to them. And sly Mr. Gookin will do the same to you, so watch out when you go into the CARMEL RADIO AND SOUND SHOP.

Hats for spring, hats for sheer gaiety at the COLLEGIATE SHOP on Alvarado. A lacy red lacquered straw with huge black bow will make you eager for Easter holidays, and smart striped taffeta sailors with ruching on crown or rim will tilt breezes for you. In fact, there is big emphasis on taffeta trimming and draping. Other Easter ware: a glace white straw, a side modeled black straw done to concert pitch with four shell pink bowing roses, and securely sophisticated, a straw circle edged with sleek and glistening black or brown coq feathers. All this and lots more too at the COLLEGIATE SHOP on Alvarado.

An interesting table at the N B FLOWER SHOP displays succulents and driftwood in natural original forms. The succulent plants are small and have desert colors of yellow, orange, and rust.

Remember! Every night at the HIGHLANDS INN is dining in night; and for your exquisite eating pleasure there is the high pointed perfection of Michel's cookery. So drive up the newly topped scenic drive, enjoy the new drapes that have gone up in the lobby and settle down to a superb dinner. Every night at the HIGHLANDS INN, 6:00 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Exclusive agents for the Gorham Sterling line are WHEATONS JEWELERS in Monterey on Alvarado. Gorham possesses an old aristocratic name, and has had 117 years of experience designing silver. The 12 designs Gorham now presents are carefully sieved down to the choicest patterns; among them the Chantilly, was proven by a recent survey to be the most popular pattern in America. For wedding gifts and anniversary aftermaths, collect Gorham sterling at WHEATONS JEWELERS.

An entire garden of potted plants greets you as you enter the FLOR DE MONTEREY on Franklin. Pots of daffodils, azaleas, deeply pink hyacinths, of cyclamen, of kalanchoe, of primrose, and to set you dreaming of a spring dawn, pots of white full cupped tulips. Next to these another garden of cut flowers, peonies, violets, roses, jonquils, enough oral and visual stimulation to keep you reacting for a week. Plant spring firmly in your home with flowers and plants from the FLOR DE MONTEREY.

What to do with an odd afternoon or evening is go to the MONTEREY JEWELERS on Alvarado and talk fast at the auction that is being held, for you will get the best bargains of any year, so good you will want lots of them, to store away for next year Christmas gifts. The hours are from 1:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon, and 7:00 to 9:00 in the evening. As we told you last week, the auctioneer knows how to be amusing, and you'll have a great time while you bid for beautiful bargains.

Just received at the MODE O'DAY shop, flowered cottons for avenue promenading, in soft colors, and a variety of styles, from sizes 12-24½. Wrap arounds for easy dressing, dotted cottons with peplum effect, candy stripes edged with eyelet lace. Quaintly modern are the pinafores and the Gibson Girls with demure white yoke and cuffs. Make your spring cotton selection for coolness and daintiness at the MODE O' DAY shop in Monterey.

Ambling about addenda to shield you in sun, in storm, lightweight transparent Pliofilm umbrellas, carried like a circular windshield; with colored handle and colored edge and selling at $3.95 at BALZER'S CARMEL DEPARTMENT STORE. And for $4.95, neat little checked and plaided taffeta parasols to give you lift and shelter, to halo you in bright color.

Tiny round toy like affairs, yet thoroughly efficient are the new alarm clocks carried at the VILLAGE JEWELERS, small enough for a purse to hold or to be tucked in some corner of a crowded desk. These juvenile clocks come in pretty colors of blue, pink, red. Then there are the travelling Pullman clocks to be zippered in leather cases and taken along, like your best friend, whenever you travel. And the VILLAGE JEWELERS continue to do fast efficient watch repairing with guarantees.

Be a good patriot with a George Washington cake all specially decorated for you by the CARMEL BAKERY, with flags, flowers, anything you like. The tree that was chopped down, in the form of sweet baked logs, will be made, all done up with cherries and a picture of Mr. Washington. There will be cookies for children, and everything nice, for your festivities in honor of a national birthdate.

Have a snatch at a sun bath while you munch your sandwiches and ice cream in the patio of the VILLAGE CORNER. New spring flowers will greet you from the flower beds, great round pots of ferns will green the corners, new brick work has been laid down, and any old bricks carefully scrubbed and polished; your own patio could be no cleaner or fresher. You might begin your new spring tan while you lunch every day outdoors in the VILLAGE CORNER.

What to do with a gray Sunday, a sunny Sunday: dine in the Patio Room of the CASA MUNRAS on a featured Club dinner, and enjoy one of the most relaxing dining rooms on the Peninsula. A blazing log fire will keep you cheerful and burn away all those complexes we're supposed to have, and the food will be delicious and to your gourmet taste. Dinner is served from 12:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. At the CASA MUNRAS in Monterey.

Hips, Hips, Hurrah! It's new. Its here now at the STAUFFER SYSTEM, at Mission and Fifth. Be our guest for a free demonstration of our new Hip and Leg Reducing equipment we have just installed. Strut about with the slimmest legs in town.

NOTICE

Come Down To Kew

Lorna Maitland, who has been in London exhibiting her miniature portraits of all the Arctic and Anarctic explorers of the world, writes:

"Down at Kew spring is beckoning fast. I was there yesterday and there were carpets of snowdrops under the trees, and the early rhododendrons were out and the camellias and the Chinese wych hazel was a blaze of yellow fragrance, and so was the Lonecera. The birds are so tame there. I just put out my hand and some bird will sit on it. If you have some crumbs they will sit on your hand and eat them until they are finished. I had three of the darlingest tomtits with their lovely yellow and blue feathers all sitting at the same time on my hand eating and I discovered that their claws are blue too."

lar because it was near the beach and the river, where fish, abalone, and mussels were plentiful. Members of the family would descend on the home ranch with no warning and many times the hospitality of the Martins would be severely taxed.

One of the most "visitinest" was Jack Swan who built the First Theater in California. He was an intimate friend of the Martins and their cousins. And when he had become old, eccentric and entirely without funds he would suddenly appear at the ranch and stay for a few days and as suddenly depart to wander on to some of the other members of the family. When he completed one tour he would begin all over again. There was never a word of his coming or going. He just came—and went.

Jack Swan became financially obligated to John Martin and to liquidate the debt he conveyed the old theater in Monterey to him. The Martins held this property for many years. It was finally conveyed by the descendants of John Martin to William Randolph Hearst who in turn deeded it to the State of California to be held as one of the most precious landmarks of our state.

Here ends the saga of the Martin family, pioneers and builders of the Monterey Peninsula, with deep roots in the soil and in the business, professional and artistic life of this area.

Student Show

The charming gallery upstairs in the Seven Arts Court has been opened again and is now exhibiting the work of student artist, Mrs. Douglas MacGregor, who has been studying with Mr. Lee Randolph. Mrs. MacGregor says that she has been painting only a year and a half, which is a short time for the skill and technique she displays. Her paintings are mostly of flowers, of leaves, of still life arrangements showing lovely composed colors. One portrait included in the collection was of Therkold Speaks, and Mrs. MacGregor has boldly captured the wild dark beauty of the West Indian woman; dark browns, coppers, and brilliant emerald blend together in an excellently designed canvas.

The Carmel Art Shop, which sponsored the show and will have a series of student showings, served tea saturday and Sunday from 2:00 to 5:00.

Travellers Choose Carmel

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishop have been spending the past two weeks in Carmel. Mrs. Bishop was presented in a lecture in January under the auspices of the Carmel Bahai's attended by over 50 people. Since then Mrs. Bishop has spoken at a large number of firesides in private homes on the Peninsula. Among those who have acted as hostesses for the Bishops' entertainment have been Mrs. Willis Walker, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, and Miss Helen Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Max Greevin, Mrs. Cornelius Haggarty, Miss Margaret Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bellick, and Mrs. Ruth Goddard Bixler.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have enjoyed Carmel so thoroughly they will probably return here to live, and they have many places with which to make comparisons, for they have lived in Geneva, Paris, and in Hawaii where Mr. Bishop was born.

Washington's Birthday Festivities

With Bill Pierce's Del Monte Lodge orchestra on hand for dancing and Washington's Birthday coming up for celebration, the Monterey Peninsula Country Club will celebrate February 22 with dinner dancing. The next morning the annual Washington's Birthday morning swim will take place at the Beach Club, followed by breakfast and entertainment by Dr. Richard's Men's Chorus. Golf sweepstakes will be held at 1:30 over the Country Club course.

The Monterey Peninsula Country Club will entertain Sunday night, February 29, with a special buffet supper for members and guests.

Here From Connecticut

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McBride are spending a few weeks in their Carmel house on Scenic Drive on a visit from their home in Greenwich, Connecticut. They are seeing a great deal of their friends, Dr. and Mrs. Remsen D. Bird. Mrs. McBride is a graduate of Occidental College where Dr. Bird was president for many years.

Anna Sheets Entertains

Last Sunday evening Mrs. Anna Sheets built a roaring fire in the Log Cabin Inn on Camino Real, one of the oldest houses in Carmel, and served sherry and canapes to some of the oldest living inhabitants. Fred Bechdolt and James Hopper reminisced on the days they lived together in the Log Cabin Inn while collaborating on their story of prison life, The Thousand and Nine, which was published in 1907. Ferdinand Burgdorff, DeNeale Morgan and Mrs. Laura Maxwell were among the guests. Don Ornitz, art editor of Script, which plans a special Carmel edition in April, photographed these assembled reasons for Carmel's fame as a literary center.

Baby Visitor

Patricia Porter said her first hello to the world on February 17 at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Her very first hello was of course to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter of Carmel Valley.

Shattuck School Student

The first semester scholarship honors list at Shattuck School, Fairbault, Minnesota, as released by A. B. Craig, principal, includes: Stephen Brooks, son of Mrs. Virginia Brooks, Box 203, Carmel, high scholastic honors.

Fashion Luncheon

The clothes shown at this week's fashion show at the Pine Inn by the Carmel Dress Shop were spring wise and eager for wear. Wool suits for March breezes and cottons for sunnier times were the main picture. Mrs. Richard Taylor's casual modeling was perfect timing for a navy suit with box jacket well shown with white gloves, and a garbardine suit in excellent brown. A white wool skirt topped by a shell pink wool coat was displayed by her, and a yellow cotton sun dress. Svelte Mrs. Margo Bauer swept by in a cherry red three quarter wool coat, and looked satuesque in a faintly striped well fitting wool suit. Mrs. Jean Wibby, in black draped crepe, touched with lace rustled by with a green checked taffeta petticoat; showing daintily beneath a red checked cotton skirt was a full white petticoat edged with lace and tied with a tiny pink satin bow. Miss Blanche Schmitz displayed a stunning modern print, cut into a silk crepe cocktail dress, very Bermanesque; her flaring navy wool coat was a definite hit.

Gay Eastern Trip

Heigh ho! Those girls are off at last! Virginia Varda and Frances Ney, having completed complicatted plans of map arrangements, baby disposal, and various travel hocus pocus, are on their way East, leaving March 27 and spending Easter Sunday with Bill and Edna Hesthol in Santa Barbara. Taking along a small trailer, the girls will use it at times for sleeping purposes, and in general to carry the Peninsula arts and crafts samples they will show to take orders on along the way. Pottery silver, textiles, will all be shown by their careful hands to various forewarned shop owners. They will start through Tucson and Texas making for New Orleans and thence New York, stopping everywhere to display their wares, and say hello to all their friends. Think of the selling-power potential inherent in two chic girls from Carmel.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

John Farr, president of the Coast Counties Division of the California Western Section of the Music Educators National Convention, returned from the Salinas meeting with news that plans are now being made for the festival to be held in Carmel on Saturday, April 24. This is the first time this annual festival will take place on the Peninsula, and it will be conducted by ten high schools and many elementary schools of Santa Cruz, San Benito and Monterey Counties. Over 1000 students in choral and instrumental groups will perform in the full day entertainment to be held simultaneously at the high school and at Sunset Auditorium.

APTITUDE TESTS

Stanford University aptitude tests will be held at Salinas Junior College February 25. All undergraduates who have applied for admission to Stanford are required to take this examination. The test will be given at 9 a.m. and there will be a $5 fee. It will last approximately three hours.

One More Carmel Addict

Mrs. Beatrice Mason, who spent last Christmas and the holiday season thereafter with Dr. and Mrs. William F. Coughlin, has returned to Carmel to make her home. In the great tradition of all our guests, Mrs. Mason, after a few weeks realized that Carmel was definitely where she wanted to live, so promptly returned to her home in Newport, Rhode Island, closed up her house, and is now living here on North Casanova. Happy times, Mrs. Mason.

Fashion Show

February 23 the Carmel Valley Inn will be the scene of a fashion show featuring lingerie and play clothes from the Eugenie Shop in Salinas. Carmel models, Mrs. Stephen Crouch, Mrs. Jack Bauer, Mrs. Louis Allaire, Mrs. Robert Kvenild, and Mrs. Jay Clancy will show the clothes, and Mrs. James Emerson of Monterey. As usual at these popular fashion shows, it is a good idea to make reservations early.

Famous Highlands Arrivals

Spending a few days at the Highlands Inn were Mr. and Mrs. James Mariner of New York, where Mr. Mariner is President of the world traveling agency, Thomas Cook and Sons.

Also enjoying the Highlands view were Mr. and Mrs. George Paxton, Jr., of Abilene, Texas. Mrs. Paxton was one of Powers' most shining models, and Mr. Paxton was a captain in the Flying Tigers.

And Wednesday Lillian Higman, probably the United States' greatest flower decorator, arrived for a relaxing Highlands Inn visit.

Off To College

Smartly tailored Muff Benson is on her way north this week to enter the University of California at Berkeley as a Freshman. Miss Benson has not as yet decided on her major, but as she is a clever and talented writer, and deeply interested in literary subjects, she will no doubt end up as an English major.

MORAN GETS 200 DAYS

Superior Judge A. M. Runnells last Friday sentenced Dr. James Moran to 200 days in the County Jail and three years' probation, following his conviction by a jury on a morals charge January 29, after a three-day trial. Deputy District Attorney Gordon Campbell had represented the people while Dr. Moran was defended by R. W. Shellooe of Salinas and Joseph Scott of Los Angeles County. The charge had involved Sergeant William I. Danley of Fort Ord, who pleaded guilty and was given two years' probation.

Pianist Presented At Playhouse By Musical Art Club

By CAMILLE OLAETA

Last Sunday afternoon at the Golden Bough Playhouse the Musical Art Club presented Miss Mary Reese, pianist, and a very personable young lady she was indeed. One goes to a recital by a fifteen-year-old all prepared to say something about a "rather naive if somewhat refreshing approach to some of the old standbys." Instead one found last Sunday piano playing that evidenced really fine and sound instruction, a notable degree of accuracy, a precise attack, a generally sophisticated handling of the piano, and admirable and well-schooled hands.

From now on this gracious and pretty girl with so much that augurs well for her future will become gradually more sensitive to the nicities of tone production. Many and varied indeed are the gradations from pianissimo to fortissimo. With less emphasis on the dynamics of contrast, she may now become concerned with a "pianissimo that isn't at the very threshold of hearing" and a mezzoforte that sings and looms over accompanying figures with full bodied resonance.

Church Work In Japan Is Lecture Topic Here

A record number of 75 members of the Carmel Missionary Society, a joint society of the Church of the Wayfarer and All Saints' Episcopal Church, gathered in All Saints' Parish House last Tuesday to hear the Reverend J. Armistead Welbourn speak of his "Memories of a Missionary to Japan". Mrs. F. Garner Boice, the retiring co-chairman for All Saints', handed over her office, in a charming speech to the new chairman, Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts. Reports were heard from the Treasurer, Secretary and the Chairman for the work for lepers. A generous collection is to be sent to the Leonard Wood Foundation for work for the lepers in the Philippines, to help the building of a radio station in China for religious broadcasting, (particularly important because of the shortage of missionaries in the Far East), and for the support and medical care of a leper child in Africa for a year.

Mr. Welbourn first cleverly gained his audience's attention and amusement by his accounts of the beauties of Japan (of which he said the Monterey Peninsula reminded him) and the humors of Japanese customs. (He was less successful in his efforts to persuade them that the most easily digested of diets was raw fish). Then, sure of his audience's sympathy, Mr. Welbourn went on to speak of the great opportunity which we now have in Japan, whose people, according to the report of the Anglican Commission on "The Church in Post-war Japan", are genuinely friendly and helpful, grateful for food and anxious to regain a good and useful position in the world of nations. But this opportunity may be lost if we do not realize our responsibility to back the efforts of the church in Japan.

Readers of the Pine Cone were interested to hear how the report of the Commission agreed with the letter from Sgt. Miyauchi in the issue of January 30.

New Men's Store Will Open Here

Thomas J. Branson, who has been in men's clothing business in San Mateo for the last 15 years, has rented one of the new stores on Sixth near Lincoln. He will open the Carmel Men's Shop, carrying a full line of nationally advertised apparel. He and his wife have bought a home on Serra and have enrolled their two sons and one daughter in the Serra School. They have been visitors in Carmel for many years.

Mr. Branson will be assisted in the shop by Chester B. Bell, formerly of San Francisco.

800 IPP SIGNATURES

The Monterey County Organizing Committee of the Independent Progressive Party announces that approximately 800 signatures of registered voters of this country will be filed with the county clerk in Salinas at the county court house the 20th of this month. State totals of signatures will be released on February 24.

Mr. Cole Weston, county director of the petition campaign, will do the filing.

Carmel Citizens Asked To Help Seaside Library

The Peninsula's second largest community depends upon a public library which has no budget for books.

The community is Seaside, whose 11,000 people are served only by the Emerson Branch of the County Library. The Emerson Branch is conveniently located and has plenty of floor space, but its stock of books is hopelessly inadequate to meet the needs of Seaside.

Seaside's only public library must depend upon contributions as the source of all of its new books.

A book drive aimed at filling the Emerson Library's empty shelves is now under way throughout the Peninsula. All types of books are wanted. Children's books are particularly needed. The drive is sponsored by the Seaside 20-30 Club.

Cash contributions are not asked for in this drive, nor is anyone asked to buy books to contribute.

Instead, everyone is asked to look over his bookcases, closets, and other storage spaces. There are books that have outlived their usefulness in almost every home. These are the books that everyone is asked to give to Seaside's Emerson Library.

Books will be picked up if the donors call 1050-R, any evening or Saturday or Sunday. Or books may be left at the Harrison Memorial Library, Ocean and Lincoln, in Carmel or at the Emerson Library in Seaside.

Wainwright's One-Man Show Opens Today

editor, publisher and illustrator of The Bermuda Humbug, (a satirical periodical), episodes of painting murals for large hotels, and the painting of many seascapes and portraits of outstanding men and women. Last year he was in Hollywood "visualizing" in tangible form sets designed for Razor's Edge and other films, and now he has returned to Carmel, where he and his wife are ensconsed in a tiny hut (with a skylight) on Eighth Street above Santa Fe. He is at last giving his full time to oil painting, and two of his recent portraits seem alone to justify all the years of study that lie behind him.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Will's Proud of His Big Ears

Will Dudley's mighty proud of his big ears! Best crop of corn he's grown since '38. And Will, like so many other farmers, has plenty of reason to be proud of what he raises.

The farmer has always been a keystone in our economic life, and the key to our national well-being. But from where I sit, he's more important now than ever. He's not only feeding America—but friends of America overseas—building good will for this country at a time when friendship for democracy is most important.

And farmers have willingly shouldered that responsibility. Will spends extra hours in his cornfield ... comes home tired to a temperate glass of beer and early bed, to be ready for the next day's work.

From where I sit, America can be mighty grateful for her five million farmers ... for their productivity, hard work, and temperate living—of which Will's moderate glass of beer is proof!
